No Signs Of Immediate Break

Damages Rise As Drought Grips Many Areas Of U.S.

CHICAGO (AP) — Damages mounted in many segments of the nation's economy today as a long spell of unseasonably warm, dry weather showed no signs of a general, immediate break across wide areas from the Rockies to New England.

The severe drought, termed by Weather Bureau officials as the worst in history in parts of the East and Midwest, has dealt crippling blows to farmers and dairymen.

Heavy, soaking rains are needed desperately to bring relief to thousands of farmers and to halt the mounting outbreak of fires in bone-dry forest and timberlands.

Most of the Far West was out of the dry belt. Heavy snow and rain pelted areas in the region earlier this week and today a new Pacific storm moved inland through Oregon, setting off more snow in the western mountains and spreading rain along the Pacific Coast.

The snow was expected to move into mountain areas of Utah, eastern Nevada and southern Idaho. Snow also fell in mountain sections of Colorado and New Mexico but no heavy rains were reported in Colorado where the state's $100-million winter wheat crop is threatened by the lack of rainfall.

There was a chance of rain in central sections of the nation — one of the hard-hit regions — with showers indicated from northeast Texas to the great Lakes. Thunderstorms rumbled across southeast Kansas. A one to three-inch blanket of snow covered areas in northern and central Maine, another area badly in need of moisture.

An Associated Press survey showed some of the major effects of the dry conditions:

Damages to winter wheat crops mounted into the millions of dollars, with some farmers threatened with complete destruction of their crop.

Hundreds of fires have burned thousands of acres of tinder-dry timber lands and forest areas in many parts of the Midwest and East. Some forest lands have been closed to the public. Hunters have been barred from some wooded regions.

Water supplies dwindled to a trickle in many areas. Wells and ponds continue to dry up in parts of New England and the Midwest, causing a severe shortage of water for livestock. The lack of water in many states was termed from severe to critical.

Temperatures again were far above normal Wednesday, with record high marks for Nov. 11 in some cities. The record high of 77 in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, compared to readings in the Deep South.

Johnson To Recommend Slash In Excise Taxes

Would Erase War-Born Levy Hikes

Will Ask Congress To Repeal Or Cut Still Other Taxes

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has decided to recommend a 1965 excise tax cut that may approach $2 billion. It would stretch the spending money of almost every citizen in the land.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, an overnight guest at the LBJ Ranch near here, reported late Wednesday that Johnson had just agreed to a basic decision, first of all, to abolish all $550 million of excise taxes added to the retail price of cosmetics and toilet goods, jewelry, furs, luggage and pocketbooks.

These war-born taxes boost purchase prices by 10 per cent.

In addition, Dillon told a news conference, Johnson will ask Congress in January to repeal or reduce still other excise taxes that would add "a good bit more" to the total size of the proposed tax cut.

Dillon said the maximum possible tax saving would be $4 billion. And he emphasized that such a figure was sure to prove too high.

At another point, he spoke of possible action on 65 to 70 different excise levies that net Uncle Sam nearly $2 billion a year.

Most experts believed the total tax cut to be recommended by Johnson — and this decision still was up in the air — would amount to somewhere between $1 billion and $2 billion.

Dillon said a final presidential decision would be delayed pending a last-minute reading of the economic outlook and possible inflationary influences.

Dillon said he thought "this would be a rather easy bill to pass" in Congress and he expected the proposed tax cuts to take effect next July 1.

Dillon, who talked to newsmen at the White House press center in Austin, 65 miles east of here, said repeal of all excises on retail sales — Johnson "agreed that was the minimum of what we should do" — would save shopkeepers a lot of bookkeeping.

Dillon wouldn't commit the administration on specific manufacturing excises — collected from manufacturers and passed on to consumers — that might be repealed or cut.

Japanese Police Break Up Leftist Protest Over Visit Of U.S. A-Sub

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Crewmen from the U.S. nuclear submarine Sea Dragon went sightseeing unmolested in Sasebo today shortly after Japanese riot police broke up a leftist sitdown protest that fell far short of its organizers' estimates.

The only violence was a grappling match between some 200 leftist students and police who dispersed the sitdown attempt.

No incidents involving Americans were reported.

Police maintained a strong guard at the U.S. Navy base in the southern Japanese port. They were uncertain whether the demonstrators had withdrawn to regroup or had abandoned their protest because they failed to draw the 10,000 to 15,000 persons their leaders had predicted.

The Sea Dragon, first nuclear-powered warship to visit the only nation ever atom-bombed, arrived this morning for a three-day recreational visit. The Japanese government admitted the sub only after extensive tests to make certain that it brought no danger of radioactive contamination.

The visit brought strong reaction from opponents of the conservative government. Public demonstrations, however, have been minor compared to those that swept the country when the government concluded the U.S.-Japan security treaty in 1960.

As the Sea Dragon moved to its mooring buoy, about 2,000 demonstrators marched to the U.S. Navy base in a cold drizzle and milled around in front of its gates. They pulled back at noon for lunch, then came back for an afternoon sitdown demonstration.

About 200 members of the ultra-left Zengakuren Students Association charged when police began forcibly hauling them off the four-lane street leading to the big American base. Many of the students wore crash helmets, and injuries apparently were limited to bloody noses, bruises and scratches.

Driver Flees On Foot After 4-Way Crash

Mailbox Damaged As Aftermath Of Minerva Mishap

A motorist fled on foot early Wednesday night after a complicated collision on Minerva St. that damaged his auto, two parked cars and a tractor rig, police reported. A Post Office mailbox was damaged as an aftermath of the mishap.

Officers said the crash at 6:11 p. m. on Minerva at the junction with Cadmus St. involved a four-door sedan owned by Wayne E. Coleman, 734 Oak St., parked cars owned by Roy M. Quimby, 47, of 700 Cadmus St. and Robert Howard, 147 N. Surry Rd., and a parked tractor owned by Kenneth Hescht, 627 Minerva St.

The Coleman car, traveling east on Minerva St., first hit Howard's parked car, damaging the left front, according to a report filed by Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice. The driver attempted to back his vehicle, pulling Howard's auto into Quimby's parked 1956 four - door sedan, the officer reported.

Then Quimby's car broke away from the curb and drifted downgrade about 150 feet, hitting the rear wheels of Hescht's parked tractor, the officer said.

The Coleman and Howard autos were towed away because they constituted a traffic hazzard and the owners could not be located, the lieutenant said.

Lt. Tice filed an affidavit today in Municipal Court accusing Coleman of leaving the scene of an accident.

Exchange Views With Prisoners

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Thirty-five federal judges went to prison today to take a long, hard look at the way they put a man behind bars and the effect of the punishment.

The judges are participating in a three-day sentencing institute and today's agenda was to take them on a tour of the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg.

With Warden O.G. Blackwell as host, they were to begin the day with a briefing on the facilities at the institution and finish by sitting in on an actual parole hearing.

At noon, the visitors were to go to the staff dining room to eat a prison meal in the company of some 30 inmates.

Blackwell said this would give the jurists, the prison officials and the prisoners an opportunity to exchange views.

"We didn't pick the worst or the best prisoners," he said. "We tried to pick the average prisoner. It's funny, but when we were picking the men, we had an enormous amount of requests."

Lewisburg is one of six federal penitentiaries in the country. It was opened in 1932 and presently consists of the main prison and two small work camps.

It's inmates, Blackwell said, run the "gamut . . . all the way from the good old country bootlegger" to the murderer.

The warden said no additional security precautions were necessary in arranging the tour.

It's no rarity for judges to visit the institution, Blackwell remarked. The major difference this time is in the size of the group.

Of the 35 federal judges, 32 Appeals—comprised of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the Virgin Islands—and the others are visiting judges sitting in on the institute.

Beaver Local Levy Gains In Vote Recount

Margin Of Defeat Cut By 14 As Tally Of Ballot Continues

BULLETIN

With 13 of 15 precincts recounted, the margin of defeat for the Beaver Local School District levy was cut by 17 votes as of noon today, when the Board of Elections recessed the tally.

The margin of defeat for a 5.4-mill Beaver Local School District levy was cut by 14 votes today as the County Election Board completed a recount of Nov. 3 election returns in nine of 15 precincts.

The net change resulted from a cut of 11 in the negative vote and a gain of three in the votes favoring the issue.

The first nine precincts had been recounted at 11:20 a. m., with six waiting to be tabulated again.

Several larger precincts still are awaiting a recount, giving the district at least a fighting chance of overturning the official canvass that showed the issue lost by a margin of 50.

The board expected the new tabulation might require most of the day, basing the estimate on the fact that 20 minutes are

Area Brush Fires Doused But Firemen Ask Caution

A series of brush fires that struck the East Liverpool district Wednesday were believed finally quelled but area firemen today urged residents to use extreme caution with no substantial rain forecast to ease the tinder-dry conditions. And winds are expected to increase the threat.

The forecast is windy and warm tonight with showers or thunderstorms, but it will take a drenching rain to end the menace. The area has had no rain since Oct. 29, and that was the first since the showers of Oct. 2.

A "drencher" would soak through the heavy surface covering of dried growth and leaves. Windy conditions add to the threat, firemen said, because a fire could easily get out of control when fanned.

Firemen from three local departments spent four hours yesterday afternoon quelling a brush fire on the hillside behind Clark St. in East End, Harry Smith, Liverpool Township forest fire warden, reported.

Smith said the fire burned over two acres inside the city limits, and another acre inside Liverpool Township. The flames spread to an abandoned house which caught fire, but received no apparent damage.

Smith said the fire broke out at 11:30 a. m. on Harker Ave. where a man was burning papers in his yard.

Liverpool Township East fire department sent three pieces of equipment and six men, Glenmoor sent a tanker and three men, and LaCroft aided with one vehicle and four men. Charles Heffner, fire tower official, arrived but was called to another fire on Bell School Rd., which burned over 40 acres, Smith said.

Pupil Escort By Mothers Is Continuing

Mothers groups at Calcutta and Rogers continued escorting young children to the two schools this morning as a combined safety and protest move against a Beaver Local School District bus cutback.

State Highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and constables were on hand to aid traffic control at Calcutta, Rogers and Elkton, and there were no incidents of buses being blocked as occurred Wednesday.

At a meeting of parents from Rogers and Calcutta last night at the Rogers Community Hall, it was agreed the mothers will continue to escort youngsters until a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Mayor Glenn Rhodes of Rogers, who presided at last night's meeting, said the parents will meet after the board session to decide policy.

City's Crews Launch Shadyside Ave. Work

Following through on a promise made to a citizens' committee late Monday afternoon, city street department crews started work today on the section of Shadyside Ave. inside the corporate limits.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said the crews will remove an accumulation of slag near the curb on the east side of the busy throughfare and build up the berm to the level of the pavement on the west side.

The Shadyside residents had sought widening of the street and provision for a walk for children who travel to and from Westgate School on foot. The administration and Council promised to build up the berm and remove the slag while seeking to work out a long - range improvement.

State Ruling In 'Error' In Wellsville Police Case

Solicitor William Bush of Wellsville has received information from state officials indicating the Ohio Personnel Board of Review would not have issued an opinion to the Wellsville Civil Service Commission in regards to the status of Charles Amato had the board at Columbus known the case was pending before Common Pleas Court.

The Board of Review issued a directive Oct. 13 to have the Wellsville commission place Amato's name on the list of patrolmen as of June 16, 1963, and to "treat him in all respects as any other member of the police force under Civil Service." The board of review now has said in a letter to Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said the order should be disregarded.

The Wellsville commission did not seek the opinion. The original letter was presented to Bush, who advised no immediate action until the matter could be checked.

Copies were sent to Donald Lowe, commission clerk, Amato, Mayor William Daugherty and Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare.

Amato has a suit pending in Common Pleas Court to have himself declared a patrolman. He claims he has been a patrolman for some time, having been named by former Mayor William Shoub.

Bush's statement follows:

2 Dismissed, One Quits In Voting Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Democratic members of the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections have been dismissed and a Republican member has resigned in the wake of a series of investigations into election irregularities.

The dismissals were made Wednesday night by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Ohio's chief election official, who charged the two Democratic members with malfeasance, non-feasance and misfeasance in office.

Fired were Dan W. Duffy, senior member of the board, and Ray T. Miller, former county Democratic chairman. The dismissals were made by letters mailed Wednesday night.

An aide of Brown's, Ray Howard, said Brown "probably would have" mailed a dismissal letter to A. L. De Maioribus, present county Republican chairman and one of the two GOP members on the board, but DeMaioribus had already announced his resignation to a Brown aide in Cleveland.

Howard said the dismissals steam from numerous irregularities turned up by a series of investigations into the conduct of the board made since the May 3 primary.

He said these irregularities included "ward-hopping" and a batch of missing Nov. 3 ballots at first believed stolen which later were discovered never to have been printed.

In his letters to Duffy and Miller, Brown said that public confidence in the board had been "seriously impaired" and that his investigation into the board's conduct showed "a substantial failure to carry out" the board's functions in accordance with the law.

The fourth member of the board, Republican Saul G. Stillman, is being retained, Howard said, because he has been on the board less than a year and Brown does not believe he was responsible for the irregularities.

In Cleveland, Duffy charged that Brown has caused the lack of confidence in the board by "taking complaints of people, usually candidates defeated for office, giving them to his investigators who then confront us with them without our having any previous knowledge."

Duffy, Miller and De Mairoibus will be replaced on the board after Brown approves recommendations for successors made by the county Republican and Democratic parties.

Calcutta Mothers Support Board

Members of the Calcutta Mothers Club voted to support the Beaver Local School Board of Education in all its policies at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Ruth Green, president, presided. The board has been under fire for cutbacks because of rejection of a levy.

A collection was received to be used to advertise the group's support of the board.

Mrs. Donna Curran presented a program on Christmas ideas created by mothers.

The meeting opened with a silent prayer in observance of Veterans Day.

Reports were given by Mrs. Thelma Dawson, secretary, and Mrs. Alice Diddle, treasurer. Mrs. Alice Salter reported on a recent visit to the retarded children's school in Elkton.

The next meeting Dec. 9 will feature a Christmas tea and white elephant sale with Mrs. Janet Cairns auctioneer.

Area Driver Charged After 2-Car Collision

A 67-year-old area man was cited after a collision of two cars on the Y. & O. Rd. at Substation Wednesday night, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

John M. McCullough of R. D. 1 was charged with making an improper turn after his 1962 sedan collided with a 1958 sedan operated by Robert Allan Brooks, 18, of Lisbon R.D. 3 at 11 p. m.

Officers said McCullough, headed east on the Y. & O. Rd., made a left turn toward Route 30 as Brooks, headed west on Route 30, entered the Y. & O. Rd.

Damage to both cars was moderate, the patrol said.

dents residing within a mile of school to walk to classes.

Some parents at Rogers and Calcutta protested the order, because of the hazard for young children walking along highways, especially where there are no sidewalks or berm.

Mrs. Ruth Green, president of the Calcutta Mothers Club, today said the active members of the club Wednesday went on record "in support of the decisions of the Board of Education now and in the future."

Some parents blocked school buses in the driveway at the Calcutta School with autos yesterday morning until asked to move by patrol officers.

A school bus was also blocked near the Elkton School yesterday.

Mrs. Betty Gray of Calcutta was treated at City Hospital late yesterday morning for a bruise of the arm she said was received when "struck by a school bus on St. Clair Ave. Ext."

However, the patrol and school officials said they knew of no incident in which a pedestrian was bumped or hit by a school bus.

A group of Calcutta residents were at last night's meeting at Rogers, Mayor Rhodes said. About 60 attended, he added. Another meeting is planned for Rogers residents Sunday afternoon.

The patrol dispatched one cruiser each to Calcutta, Elkton and Rogers.

Kiwanis Plans Clothing Drive

Allen Dalrymple, chairman, today announced his committee and arrangements for the collection of old clothing by the Wellsville Kiwanis Club.

The club will collect the clothes for the needy. The distribution will be handled through the city Welfare Department.

Dalrymple said his committee includes Tom Piatt, Paul Welch, Lloyd Rhodes and Cedric Stanway.

The clothing will be collected Saturday, Nov. 21, beginning at 10 a. m. Anyone with articles to donate may call LE. 2-1576 to arrange a pickup.

If anyone cannot be home Saturday, arrangements may be made to pick up the clothing earlier in the week.

The clothing will be sorted, cleaned and then given to the Welfare Department.

Trucks have been donated by the W. C. Bunting Co., Richard Cleaners and Wesco Manufacturing Co.

Post Sets Dance At Lawrenceville

Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 has completed plans for its annual Veterans Day dance Saturday from 9 to 12 p. m. at the post home.

George Miller's band will provide the music for members and guests and a luncheon will be served.

The post executive committee will meet at 7 p. m. Monday preceeding the regular meeting at 8.

The post will conduct ceremonies next weekend to retire the flag at the post home, which has flown at half - mast during the 30-day mourning period in honor of the late President Herbert Hoover.

Wellsville Gets 2nd New Police Cruiser

Wellsville's second new police cruiser has arrived and is being prepared for service.

The 1965 vehicle, a twin with the one put into service two weeks ago, is being equipped at the Bob White Ford garage. White was low bidder, offering two vehicles for 4,447.20.

Spot lights, red flashing dome light on top, radio equipment and the undercoating all are handled at the garage.

The cruisers are black and white.

Man Burned Fatally

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A 68-year-old man was burned fatally Wednesday in a fire that started when a television set exploded in his home here. The victim, St. Clair Reams, who was partially paralyzed, was burned over 70 per cent of his body and died several hours later in St. Vincent Hospital.

Brush Fires Plague Area

5,000 gallons of water to wet down the woods and brush at the Clark St. fire. Firemen were aided by a dozen boys of the vicinity.

City firemen spent 32 minutes at the hillside fire after receiving the initial call at 11:28 a.m.

They notified Liverpool Township East of the blaze.

Firemen were called back to the scene at 9:08 p. m. after the fire rekindled. They spent 19 minutes at the fire, using brooms to beat out the flames.

Two other brush fires also were fought yesterday.

Firemen were called to St. Clair Ave. at 12:37 p. m. to fight a blaze behind Finlay's Market and below the bus right-of-way.

While fighting the fire, the department received a call at 12:45 p. m. of a grass fire on Cadmus St. However, firemen said the fire merely had spread to the Cadmus St. area from St. Clair Ave.

They indicated children were responsible for starting the blaze.

Three acres of the woodland below Myler Park in Pleasant Heights area was burned over last night at 11, according to Homer Cronin, assistant chief, of the Liverpool Township West department. It was started by boys playing with matches.

Firemen poured 2,200 gallons of water on the blaze and commented it might not yet be out. They laid 1,200 feet of hose.

Thirty men fought the blaze until 3 a. m. today. This included Charles Heffner of the state forestry division, four men from the Liverpool Township East and the Glenmoor department.

Cronin said the department was notified of the fire at 12:30 p. m. yesterday but was unable to locate the blaze. The person who called said the woods was burning on Shadyside Ave.

The area burned over spread from the Jethro Hollow area up over the hillside to Myler Park.

The largest local blaze charred 44 acres of brushland near the Clarkson - Pancake Rd. early yesterday afternoon.

Calcutta and the Negley volunteer departments were summoned at 1:30. There was no extensive damage, and the only threat was to a large stand of pine on property owned by the Vodrey Estate, Negley Fire Chief Don Mahon reported.

Approximately 150 acres was burned over near Amsterdam Wednesday. This blaze was handled by forestry men from Scio and firemen from Jefferson County communites.

Hancock Man Fined For Starting Fire

Harry Nichols, 47, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 was fined $20 and costs Wednesday for starting a fire during an emergency fire season.

Nichols was arraigned before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland on the affidavit filed by Walter McCrea, Hancock County conservation officer. Fires are banned in rural areas because of drought conditions.

South Side PTA Gets Survey, Sale Reports

Reports on an adult education survey and birthday calendar sales were given at a meeting of the Southern Beaver County Joint Parent- Teacher Association Monday night at the South Side High School at Hookstown.

Mrs. William Purciful, president, announced the Beaver County PTA Council will screen a film, "Fighting the Dangers of Obscene Literature," Monday night at 8 at the Rochester Area High School.

The ext meeting will be announced.

Commission to take no action on it for the time being.

"Immediately thereafter a letter was sent to Mr. Lowell Fess, Secretary of the State Personnel Board of Review, asking him to explain by what authority the Board of Review had taken its action to interfere in local affairs and requested further information as to why the order was made. He was further informed that the matter was pending before the Common Pleas Court of Columbiana County. No reply has been received from that letter.

"At the same time a letter was sent to the attorney general of a similar nature asking if he concurred in the opinions and orders expressed in Mr. Fess' letter to the Civil Service Commission.

"To that letter a reply was received indicating that he had made inquiry of the Board of Review position and enclosed the reply which he received.

The solicitor's letter then quoted the letter from James R. Gould, chairman of the Board of Review, to Saxbe, as follows:

"Mr. Robert J. Perry of your office has requested our comments upon a certain letter dated Oct. 15, 1964, addressed to you from William L. Bush, and upon an earlier letter dated Oct. 13, 1964, from Lowell Fess, Secretary of this Board, to the Wellsville Civil Service Commission.

"When Mr. Fess wrote the letter in question he was unaware that the matter had been brought before the Common Pleas Court of Columbiana County. It is our understanding that Mr. Fess would not have expressed his opinion on this matter had he known of this development.

"It should be noted that the opinion expressed by Mr. Fess is substantiated by material contained in our file. We have been receiving letters, affidavits, etc., concerning this matter since February 1963.

"The Personnel Board of Review has no jurisdiction with regard to such a municipal civil service problem. The opinion of Mr. Fess as expressed in his letter of Oct. 13, 1964, to the Wellsville Civil Service Commission should be disregarded."

Payne Clarifies Financial Report

LISBON — Village School Supt. Oliver Payne today clarified a report of the financial status of the school district as reported in The Review Wednesday.

Supt. Payne said the district was $38,000 in debt at the start of the year, and the Board of Education hopes to have reduced the debt by about $12,000 at the end of the year.

This will still leave a debt of some $26,000 at the beginning of 1965, he added.

"The reduction in the debt was undertaken by several cutbacks, and we are not sure if the actual reduction will be $12,000 at this time," he explained.

Voters in the school district turned down a proposed new 4-mill operating levy Nov. 3—the third time it had been put to a vote.

Club Will Hear Bettis

LISBON — Atty. Warren Bettis of Salineville, recently elected prosecuting attorney, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Columbiana Republican Club tonight at 8 at the Joshua Dixon Elementary School. Mrs. June Kendall, president, will preside.

Commission to take no action on it for the time being.

"Immediately thereafter a letter was sent to Mr. Lowell Fess, Secretary of the State Personnel Board of Review, asking him to explain by what authority the Board of Review had taken its action to interfere in local affairs and requested further information as to why the order was made. He was further informed that the matter was pending before the Common Pleas Court of Columbiana County. No reply has been received from that letter.

"At the same time a letter was sent to the attorney general of a similar nature asking if he concurred in the opinions and orders expressed in Mr. Fess' letter to the Civil Service Commission.

"To that letter a reply was received indicating that he had made inquiry of the Board of Review position and enclosed the reply which he received.

The solicitor's letter then quoted the letter from James R. Gould, chairman of the Board of Review, to Saxbe, as follows:

"Mr. Robert J. Perry of your office has requested our comments upon a certain letter dated Oct. 15, 1964, addressed to you from William L. Bush, and upon an earlier letter dated Oct. 13, 1964, from Lowell Fess, Secretary of this Board, to the Wellsville Civil Service Commission.

"When Mr. Fess wrote the letter in question he was unaware that the matter had been brought before the Common Pleas Court of Columbiana County. It is our understanding that Mr. Fess would not have expressed his opinion on this matter had he known of this development.

"It should be noted that the opinion expressed by Mr. Fess is substantiated by material contained in our file. We have been receiving letters, affidavits, etc., concerning this matter since February 1963.

"The Personnel Board of Review has no jurisdiction with regard to such a municipal civil service problem. The opinion of Mr. Fess as expressed in his letter of Oct. 13, 1964, to the Wellsville Civil Service Commission should be disregarded."

Payne Clarifies Financial Report

LISBON — Village School Supt. Oliver Payne today clarified a report of the financial status of the school district as reported in The Review Wednesday.

Supt. Payne said the district was $38,000 in debt at the start of the year, and the Board of Education hopes to have reduced the debt by about $12,000 at the end of the year.

This will still leave a debt of some $26,000 at the beginning of 1965, he added.

"The reduction in the debt was undertaken by several cutbacks, and we are not sure if the actual reduction will be $12,000 at this time," he explained.

Voters in the school district turned down a proposed new 4-mil! operating levy Nov. 3—the third time it had been put to a vote.

Club Will Hear Bettis

LISBON — Atty. Warren Bettis of Salineville, recently elected prosecuting attorney, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Columbiana Republican Club tonight at 8 at the Joshua Dixon Elementary School. Mrs. June Kendall, president, will preside.

A New Thought On Taxation

The Johnson administration is talking about an excise tax reduction in 1965.

The most embarrassing thing that could happen to the Johnson administration in 1965 would be the beginning of an economic letdown.

President Johnson was elected to the presidency on Nov. 3 as a means of maintaining an economic status quo that was satisfactory. This loomed over all other voter motives, though it was the least discussed. The standing rule of U.S. politics is that voters never vote to throw out an administration when times are good.

Therefore, the Johnson administration can be expected to do everything possible to keep times good. During his campaign, President Johnson said he would propose excise tax reduction in 1965. Income tax reduction in 1964 had been credited with boosting the economy this year.

There is a new thought in circulation about federal taxes. It harmonizes with the Johnson administration's "centrist" position in politics in general.

IT IS THE thought that tax policy, which had been used in the past to bring about reform, should be used to bring about economic stimulation. The thought had crystallized in the Kennedy administration. It was sold to Congress in the interim Johnson administration.

It was shared by Sen. Goldwater. He spoke of plans to reduce income taxes in 5 per cent installments until there had been a 25 per cent reduction.

Sylvia Porter, business and financial columnist, recently sketched in the background of this new thought.

It is the fact that economic growth can produce enough revenue at reduced tax rates to cover government costs if they are kept in check.

The country is growing larger. It is producing more revenue. Miss Porter points out that the national debt is getting smaller in relation to the size of the economy; that its 50 per cent relationship to gross national product now is back where it was before World War II, though at the end of World War II it was 133 per cent of the gross national product.

IT WOULD BE economic folly to pile up surplus revenue for drastic reductions in the debt. Gradual reductions would be justified, if a boom threatened to get out of hand.

It would be foolhardy to pile up surplus revenue for increases in federal spending. For once in a lifetime it is better politics to cut back spending than beef it up.

The alternative to piling up surplus revenue is to reduce taxes, thereby stimulating the economy and producing more revenue.

The corollary of tax reduction that stimulates the economy and produces more revenue is to redistribute more tax money among the 50 states, thus countering the charge of too much centralization of power and encouraging the states to exercise the power of decision that critics of "big government" accuse Washington of taking away.

This would be consistent with a centrist position in politics—a centrist position in federal fiscal policy. It is one more jot of evidence that the Johnson administration is trying to neutralize conservative critics by beating them to the punch.

Work To Be Done

Cleaning operations under way at Wellsville's City Hall bring to mind the need for improvements to the municipal building here.

Both inside and out, there is work to be done on the stone structure on W. 6th St. The exterior could stand a good sandblasting and the interior considerable re-plastering and a general cleanup.

That work needs to be done isn't news to the mayor, the safety-service director and members of Council who live with the problem from day to day. But often when one is close to a situation it sometimes becomes shoved into the background by more pressing matters of the moment. And, of course, there's the question of money.

But we felt a remainder would not be out of order in the interest of what would be a welcome addition to the general improvement taking form in the downtown business district.

A shining City Building would help greatly to reflect the spirit of progress in one of the important places where it should be reflected.

Raising Money The Hard Way

Nothing could reveal more clearly the money problems of the voluntary colleges than Ohio's current interest in legislative action on a proposed bond issue to provide still more millions for tax-supported universities. In all probability, the Legislature will approve and voters will say yes.

The universities are indispensable. They provide facilities for the mass education needed in our complex society. The taxes that build them and keep them in operations are paid willingly, even enthusiastically.

Nothing has wider citizen acceptance in this country than the cost of education, which accounts for the largest share of local spending and one of the large shares of state spending.

But voluntary colleges and universities are indispensable, too—and they have no tax income for support. All the money they use for capital improvement must come from voluntary donations; hence the word "voluntary," to distinguish them from tax-supported institutions.

Next week, Ohio's 33 non-tax supported colleges will call on hundreds of business and industrial leaders to ask support for the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges. The foundation received $1,266,895 from 1,613 companies last year.

This is raising money, the hard way. All funds for voluntary colleges must be raised the hard way. The hard workers who make the effort to keep the voluntary colleges going are their salvation.

These people deserve courtesy and cooperation. Without their efforts and without the generosity of these who respond to their efforts, the whole burden of education would rest on taxpayers. This would not be good for taxpayers, and most certainly it would not be good for education.

Help The Needy

Thanksgiving is another of those times when the more fortunate experience a certain warmth in being able to make things happier for the less fortunate.

The Pleasant Heights Mothers Club, at a meeting this week, launched plans for the preparation of baskets of groceries for needy families during the coming holiday.

The club's program is symbolic of many such helping hands which will be extended during Thanksgiving.

If your club or group is seeking a worthwhile project, why not baskets for the needy?

Poi In The Soi

By Truman Twill

I am laying plans for my political future.

I expect to run for senator from Hawaii. I will have to wait until 1968 for another Hawaiian senatorship to come up for grabs. The delay doesn't bother me.

I am ready for Hawaii, but I doubt that Hawaii is ready for me. I am bursting with innovations.

I do not intend to claim any Hawaiian connections. That would be ridiculous. My family didn't know how to spell Hawaii. My only chance ever to see the place will be on a congressional travel allowance.

I intend to be elected U.S. senator from Hawaii without leaving my native habitat. My first glimpse of the wahinis will be when I give them their first glimpse of me.

I will be more impressed than they will be, naturally. But I have a few ideas up my sleeve to get attention from their poppas and mommas.

BIGGEST THING in politics now is to know the ropes. No longer is "local boy makes good" the ultimate triumph. Now it's "carpet-bagger can get it for you wholesale" — meaning government largesse.

It hasn't been proved beyond any doubt that this slogan is a sure winner, because it didn't work in California for Pierre Salinger. But it worked in New York for Bobby Kennedy. I prefer to look on the happy side.

Truman Twill is no Bobby Kennedy; I know, I know. Nor even a George Murphy. Just a nobody. But that is going to be my campaign pitch when I run for senator from Hawaii. Vote for a nobody. Wipe out obscurity!

This is a representative democracy. In a representative democracy we're all entitled to the same crack at opportunity. There are a few opportunities in Hawaii I want a crack at — things I never have had, like poi.

I want to loll on my back and have sinuous girls make a fuss over me. I want to wade on the beach at Waikiki. I want to eat a fresh coconut. I want to sing in the Hawaiian manner, because it suits my type of singing voice. They won't let me do it at pineapple juice parties around here.

I want to see where the pineapple comes from that I have been enjoying in pineapple sundaes all my life. I want to go fishing where the fish amount to something. I want to eat roast pig cooked Hawaiian style.

IN A WORD, dear future constituents, I want to be an eager beaver about Hawaii, not just another blase native who has seen everything there is to see back home and hardly can wait to go jetting to Washington to eat beef and size up the career girls on Pennsylvania Ave.

Me, I'd jet to Honolulu on the first flight after my election and stay there. I would show my devotion to Hawaii on the scene, not halfway around the world. The other senator from Hawaii could do the Washington lobbying while I buttered up Hawaiians and attended pig roasts.

I am thinking about this with every fiber. If only I looked like Bobby Kennedy. . . . If only I had all that money. . . . If only I had been born a Kennedy instead of a Twill. . . . Aloha, sucker.

There's No Reason For Negotiations

Labor Eyes New Role In Congress

By Joel Seldin

In the new Congress, the AFL-CIO hopes to replace the Southern Democrats as the balance of power. If it does, the action may produce one of the stormiest and most influential congressional sessions since the New Deal Congress of 1933.

The key test of Labor's congressional strength is likely to come on a proposal to amend the Taft-Hartley law so that states no longer will be able to pass "right-to-work" statutes.

For the first time since Taft-Hartley was passed in 1947, the AFL-CIO legislative experts feel they have enough strength at their command in the new Congress to push through the amendment without risking the injection of, for them, even more odious provisions into the labor law.

LABOR'S ESTIMATE of its congressional power was made immediately after the Election Day sweep by the Democrats, a campaign in which the AFL-CIO invested more than $1 million.

The critical question for the Labor lobbyists was the complexion of the House. They felt the Senate was safely on their side even before the election and was sure to remain so.

The AFL-CIO has learned to be coldly objective in its legislative estimates. Its "head count" of the new Congress was not based on party labels but on which representatives, from either party, were from labor's point of view, "friendly."

Labor now concludes it has picked up from 41 to 43 friendly congressional votes. Before the election, the AFL - CIO estimated it needed only from 21 to 25 friendly votes to ensure a House majority for the Taft-Hartley amendment.

A federation spokesman, still glowing over the victory, said that even if a more detailed evaluation of the new congressmen, now in process, shows that some cannot be counted "safe" in a vote on the amendment, there was sure to be at least the 25-vote minimum needed.

A DECISION on whether to try for the amendment must be made by the Labor Federation's Executive Council, but the legislative experts were confident that the word will be "go."

At the moment, the next council session is scheduled for February and AFL-CIO President George Meany is in Japan for a goodwill visit with that country's unions.

Meany is expected back by Nov. 20, and it's anticipated that the council will be called into special session before the end of this month, with Taft-Hartley high on its agenda.

If the decision is as expected, the Labor lobbyists will have plenty of time for preliminary maneuvering before the 89th Congress convenes Jan. 3. The Taft-Hartley Amendment should show up early in the session and provide a quick clue to the accuracy of the AFL - CIO guess about its legislative strength.

For Labor, the substance of the amendment, repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law, is important. Although the law itself sanctions union-shop contracts, under which new employes have 30 days to join the union, Section 14B permits states to outlaw the union shop. If the section were dropped, the whole matter would become federal jurisdiction and the Taft-Hartley sanction of union-shop will prevail.

THE FIGHT against state right-to-work laws has cost the AFL-CIO $12 million out of pocket, and untold millions more in dues and initiation fees that member unions might have collected, but didn't, in the 20 States where such laws have been passed.

What's more, the federation's campaign against the law at the state level has not been too successful. Three states have passed right-to-work laws since 1957. In three states where such laws were defeated, proponents, abetted by a national right-to-work committee, promptly started the campaign all over again.

The AFL-CIO wants this "threat" removed permanently, and appears willing to stake its congressional prestige on the issue.

The important thing about this amendment will be that a vote on it will reflect the congressional mood regarding State's Rights.

Opponents are sure to raise the State's Rights question. Which ever way Congress goes may set the tone of its attitude toward a number of other bills in which state vs. Federal power is in question, including reapportionment.

The labor experts agree that the final success of any legislation will hinge on the stand taken by the Johnson administration. Without administration backing, it is clear that no bill will have much chance in the new Congress.

Truth Coming Out

By David Lawrence

Soviet Still Has Control Over Cuba

The American people have been led to believe in the last two years that the United States won a signal victory over the Soviet Union as well as the Castro government in 1962 when the two Communist regimes were supposed to have dismantled the bases erected in Cuba for long-range missiles.

David Lawrence

The truth slowly is coming out. It now appears clear that the Soviet Union and the Cuban government have agreed to a military alliance which permits Castro to fire surface-to-air missiles at American planes and to take other steps to thwart any attempt by the United States to protect its interests against Cuban trouble-making in the South Atlantic area.

The information that Castro today is in control of certain Soviet missile bases came from the Cuban dictator himself during the course of a six-hour interview with Cyrus L. Sulzberger of The New York Times, one of the ablest writers on international affairs in the field of journalism. Castro said:

"When our forces took over control of the surface-to-air missiles the arrangement carried with it an obligation not to proceed unilatrally in shooting at U2 flights. The commitment we assumed was that all legal means to put an end to U2 flights should first be exhausted; but this is not a commitment for an indefinite period. The surface-to-air missiles are now under Cuban control."

DOES THIS mean that the United States is under pressure to abandon its flights over Cuba which were instituted as a form of inspection because the Cuban government refused to permit any verification of the Soviet claim that the large missile bases had been dismantled the the equipment returned to the Soviet Union?

The State Department declares that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba have been continuing, and still claims it's insisting that all Soviet military personnel should leave. While the longer-range missiles are believed to have been removed from Cuba, other missiles remain.

The surface - to - air missiles are considered by the State Department to be "defensive" rather than "offensive." But the fact that they can interfere with U2 flights made by the United States constitutes a threat to peace, as there could be at any moment an incident which would involve a decision by the Soviet Union to authorize the use of its own military personnel in Cuba.

In the event such a crisis should arise, the conflict would not be merely with Cuba but with the Soviet Union as well.

STATE DEPARTMENT officials have not revealed whether the United States government has protested against the Soviet - Cuban agreement, or whether an effort has been made to learn from Moscow exactly what kind of action would be authorized by the Soviet Union in the event of an emergency in Cuba.

All that the State Department now says — two years after the October 1962 Cuban missile crisis — is that Russia appears to have reduced its military presence in Cuba to a "few thousand" military advisers and technicians. No exact figures are given, but the fact remains that members of the Russian military service are on duty in a country only 90 miles away from the shores of the United States.

Castro did not say whether there were any other kinds of missile bases or any nuclear warheads in Cuba. In acknowledging that his alliance with the Soviet government requires him to get the consent of Moscow before using force, there is an admission that Moscow still retains a voice in any military operations that may ensue.

THE CUBAN chief disclosed in the same interview that there were many more Soviet troops in Cuba during the 1962 missile crisis than had been generally reported. He said:

"That figure still is secret but I can tell you it was much larger than the figures published. The figures published said 22,000."

So the United States still is confronted with a military threat from Cuba. The feeling in government circles is that the use of the surface-to-air missile bases in Cuba cannot accomplish any important military purpose unless the Soviet Union itself is involved and attempts are made to attack bases on American soil.

The continuance, however, of Soviet military control over Cuba is of much significance in Latin-American affairs.

It furnishes an example of what the Soviet Union is willing to do with respect to other countries in the Western Hemisphere.

It emphasizes, also, that the Soviet Union still can supply larger missiles to Cuba in the future.

Unless the United States were to conduct a constant blockade and intercept vessels destined for Havana and other ports in Cuba, it is not likely that the re-establishment of the missile bases would be known in this country until long after they had been set up.

What the Soviet Union has done in Cuba is contrary not only to the Monroe Doctrine but to the resolutions adopted by the Organization of American States which condemn as a hostile act to all these nations the establishment of any base in this hemisphere by outside powers.

Slip Of The Tongue

By Fred S. Hoffman

WASHINGTON

An apparent slip of the tongue by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara shows how difficult it is to maintain an official line at all times when the realities clash with that line.

"We have no plans at present to send further combat units to South Viet Nam," McNamara told newsmen in Texas after conferring with President Johnson about the budget and other matters.

It was McNamara's use of the word "further" that brought reporters up short. That word suggests the United States already has combat units in South Viet Nam.

The official transcript of McNamara's comments Tuesday did not include the word "further." Newsmen who heard the word at the time and checked on the deletion said the omission appeared to be inadvertent. A tape recording shows that the word was used.

Neither McNamara nor any other responsible U.S. official ever has said that any of the 20,000 or so American military men in South Viet Nam are there to fight.

The official position — from which McNamara never before has deviated — holds that the considerable American force has the mission of advising and helping the South Vietnamese to fight for their own independence and freedom.

McNamara gave a succinct summation of the U.S. policy line last Sept. 30 during a television interview.

"It's their war; they must win it. They must fight it, and only they can win it," McNamara said.

"We are providing logistical support, military advice, transport assistance. We are not carrying on the battle ourselves. We cannot stand in their place and fight the Communists within the borders of their country."

The U.S. government has held to this stand in the face of clear evidence that U.S. Army helicopters equipped with rockets and machine guns have mounted attack after attack against Communist guerrillas.

This government has continued to insist that many of the bombing and planned assaults by U.S. planes against Red Viet Cong positions and hideouts are training flights for South Vietnamese air force men who go along on such missions.

Questions could be raised about the role of the B57 medium jet bombers and the interceptor jets sent into South Viet Nam after the Gulf of Tonkin incidents in early August, but these are intended for use either against targets in North Viet Nam or to defend South Viet Nam from outside air attack rather than as part of the anti-guerrilla war inside the country.

Next week, Ohio's 33 non-tax supported colleges will call on hundreds of business and industrial leaders to ask support for the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges. The foundation received $1,266,895 from 1,613 companies last year.

This is raising money, the hard way. All funds for voluntary colleges must be raised the hard way. The hard workers who make the effort to keep the voluntary colleges going are their salvation.

These people deserve courtesy and cooperation. Without their efforts and without the generosity of these who respond to their efforts, the whole burden of education would rest on taxpayers. This would not be good for taxpayers, and most certainly it would not be good for education.

Help The Needy

Thanksgiving is another of those times when the more fortunate experience a certain warmth in being able to make things happier for the less fortunate.

The Pleasant Heights Mothers Club, at a meeting this week, launched plans for the preparation of baskets of groceries for needy families during the coming holiday.

The club's program is symbolic of many such helping hands which will be extended during Thanksgiving.

If your club or group is seeking a worthwhile project, why not baskets for the needy?

Poi In The Soi

By Truman Twill

I am laying plans for my political future.

I expect to run for senator from Hawaii. I will have to wait until 1968 for another Hawaiian senatorship to come up for grabs. The delay doesn't bother me.

I am ready for Hawaii, but I doubt that Hawaii is ready for me. I am bursting with innovations.

I do not intend to claim any Hawaiian connections. That would be ridiculous. My family didn't know how to spell Hawaii. My only chance ever to see the place will be on a congressional travel allowance.

I intend to be elected U.S. senator from Hawaii without leaving my native habitat. My first glimpse of the wahinis will be when I give them their first glimpse of me.

I will be more impressed than they will be, naturally. But I have a few ideas up my sleeve to get attention from their poppas and mommas.

BIGGEST THING in politics now is to know the ropes. No longer is "local boy makes good" the ultimate triumph. Now it's "carpet-bagger can get it for you wholesale" — meaning government largesse.

It hasn't been proved beyond any doubt that this slogan is a sure winner, because it didn't work in California for Pierre Salinger. But it worked in New York for Bobby Kennedy. I prefer to look on the happy side.

Truman Twill is no Bobby Kennedy; I know, I know. Nor even a George Murphy. Just a nobody. But that is going to be my campaign pitch when I run for senator from Hawaii. Vote for a nobody. Wipe out obscurity!

This is a representative democracy. In a representative democracy we're all entitled to the same crack at opportunity. There are a few opportunities in Hawaii I want a crack at — things I never have had, like poi.

I want to loll on my back and have sinuous girls make a fuss over me. I want to wade on the beach at Waikiki. I want to eat a fresh coconut. I want to sing in the Hawaiian manner, because it suits my type of singing voice. They won't let me do it at pineapple juice parties around here.

I want to see where the pineapple comes from that I have been enjoying in pineapple sundaes all my life. I want to go fishing where the fish amount to something. I want to eat roast pig cooked Hawaiian style.

IN A WORD, dear future constituents, I want to be an eager beaver about Hawaii, not just another blase native who has seen everything there is to see back home and hardly can wait to go jetting to Washington to eat beef and size up the career girls on Pennsylvania Ave.

Me, I'd jet to Honolulu on the first flight after my election and stay there. I would show my devotion to Hawaii on the scene, not halfway around the world. The other senator from Hawaii could do the Washington lobbying while I buttered up Hawaiians and attended pig roasts.

I am thinking about this with every fiber. If only I looked like Bobby Kennedy. . . . If only I had all that money. . . . If only I had been born a Kennedy instead of a Twill. . . . Aloha, sucker.

There's No Reason For Negotiations

Labor Eyes New Role In Congress

By Joel Seldin

In the new Congress, the AFL-CIO hopes to replace the Southern Democrats as the balance of power. If it does, the action may produce one of the stormiest and most influential congressional sessions since the New Deal Congress of 1933.

The key test of Labor's congressional strength is likely to come on a proposal to amend the Taft-Hartley law so that states no longer will be able to pass "right-to-work" statutes.

For the first time since Taft-Hartley was passed in 1947, the AFL-CIO legislative experts feel they have enough strength at their command in the new Congress to push through the amendment without risking the injection of, for them, even more odious provisions into the labor law.

LABOR'S ESTIMATE of its congressional power was made immediately after the Election Day sweep by the Democrats, a campaign in which the AFL-CIO invested more than $1 million.

The critical question for the Labor lobbyists was the complexion of the House. They felt the Senate was safely on their side even before the election and was sure to remain so.

The AFL-CIO has learned to be coldly objective in its legislative estimates. Its "head count" of the new Congress was not based on party labels but on which representatives, from either party, were from labor's point of view, "friendly."

Labor now concludes it has picked up from 41 to 43 friendly congressional votes. Before the election, the AFL - CIO estimated it needed only from 21 to 25 friendly votes to ensure a House majority for the Taft-Hartley amendment.

A federation spokesman, still glowing over the victory, said that even if a more detailed evaluation of the new congressmen, now in process, shows that some cannot be counted "safe" in a vote on the amendment, there was sure to be at least the 25-vote minimum needed.

A DECISION on whether to try for the amendment must be made by the Labor Federation's Executive Council, but the legislative experts were confident that the word will be "go."

At the moment, the next council session is scheduled for February and AFL-CIO President George Meany is in Japan for a goodwill visit with that country's unions.

Meany is expected back by Nov. 20, and it's anticipated that the council will be called into special session before the end of this month, with Taft-Hartley high on its agenda.

If the decision is as expected, the Labor lobbyists will have plenty of time for preliminary maneuvering before the 89th Congress convenes Jan. 3. The Taft-Hartley Amendment should show up early in the session and provide a quick clue to the accuracy of the AFL - CIO guess about its legislative strength.

For Labor, the substance of the amendment, repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law, is important. Although the law itself sanctions union-shop contracts, under which new employes have 30 days to join the union, Section 14B permits states to outlaw the union shop. If the section were dropped, the whole matter would become federal jurisdiction and the Taft-Hartley sanction of union-shop will prevail.

THE FIGHT against state right-to-work laws has cost the AFL-CIO $12 million out of pocket, and untold millions more in dues and initiation fees that member unions might have collected, but didn't, in the 20 States where such laws have been passed.

What's more, the federation's campaign against the law at the state level has not been too successful. Three states have passed right-to-work laws since 1957. In three states where such laws were defeated, proponents, abetted by a national right-to-work committee, promptly started the campaign all over again.

The AFL-CIO wants this "threat" removed permanently, and appears willing to stake its congressional prestige on the issue.

The important thing about this amendment will be that a vote on it will reflect the congressional mood regarding State's Rights.

Opponents are sure to raise the State's Rights question. Which ever way Congress goes may set the tone of its attitude toward a number of other bills in which state vs. Federal power is in question, including reapportionment.

The labor experts agree that the final success of any legislation will hinge on the stand taken by the Johnson administration. Without administration backing, it is clear that no bill will have much chance in the new Congress.

Truth Coming Out

By David Lawrence

Soviet Still Has Control Over Cuba

The American people have been led to believe in the last two years that the United States won a signal victory over the Soviet Union as well as the Castro government in 1962 when the two Communist regimes were supposed to have dismantled the bases erected in Cuba for long-range missiles.

David Lawrence

The truth slowly is coming out. It now appears clear that the Soviet Union and the Cuban government have agreed to a military alliance which permits Castro to fire surface-to-air missiles at American planes and to take other steps to thwart any attempt by the United States to protect its interests against Cuban trouble-making in the South Atlantic area.

The information that Castro today is in control of certain Soviet missile bases came from the Cuban dictator himself during the course of a six-hour interview with Cyrus L. Sulzberger of The New York Times, one of the ablest writers on international affairs in the field of journalism. Castro said:

"When our forces took over control of the surface-to-air missiles the arrangement carried with it an obligation not to proceed unilatrally in shooting at U2 flights. The commitment we assumed was that all legal means to put an end to U2 flights should first be exhausted; but this is not a commitment for an indefinite period. The surface-to-air missiles are now under Cuban control."

DOES THIS mean that the United States is under pressure to abandon its flights over Cuba which were instituted as a form of inspection because the Cuban government refused to permit any verification of the Soviet claim that the large missile bases had been dismantled the the equipment returned to the Soviet Union?

The State Department declares that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba have been continuing, and still claims it's insisting that all Soviet military personnel should leave. While the longer-range missiles are believed to have been removed from Cuba, other missiles remain.

The surface - to - air missiles are considered by the State Department to be "defensive" rather than "offensive." But the fact that they can interfere with U2 flights made by the United States constitutes a threat to peace, as there could be at any moment an incident which would involve a decision by the Soviet Union to authorize the use of its own military personnel in Cuba.

In the event such a crisis should arise, the conflict would not be merely with Cuba but with the Soviet Union as well.

STATE DEPARTMENT officials have not revealed whether the United States government has protested against the Soviet - Cuban agreement, or whether an effort has been made to learn from Moscow exactly what kind of action would be authorized by the Soviet Union in the event of an emergency in Cuba.

All that the State Department now says — two years after the October 1962 Cuban missile crisis — is that Russia appears to have reduced its military presence in Cuba to a "few thousand" military advisers and technicians. No exact figures are given, but the fact remains that members of the Russian military service are on duty in a country only 90 miles away from the shores of the United States.

Castro did not say whether there were any other kinds of missile bases or any nuclear warheads in Cuba. In acknowledging that his alliance with the Soviet government requires him to get the consent of Moscow before using force, there is an admission that Moscow still retains a voice in any military operations that may ensue.

THE CUBAN chief disclosed in the same interview that there were many more Soviet troops in Cuba during the 1962 missile crisis than had been generally reported. He said:

"That figure still is secret but I can tell you it was much larger than the figures published. The figures published said 22,000."

So the United States still is confronted with a military threat from Cuba. The feeling in government circles is that the use of the surface-to-air missile bases in Cuba cannot accomplish any important military purpose unless the Soviet Union itself is involved and attempts are made to attack bases on American soil.

The continuance, however, of Soviet military control over Cuba is of much significance in Latin-American affairs.

It furnishes an example of what the Soviet Union is willing to do with respect to other countries in the Western Hemisphere.

It emphasizes, also, that the Soviet Union still can supply larger missiles to Cuba in the future.

Unless the United States were to conduct a constant blockade and intercept vessels destined for Havana and other ports in Cuba, it is not likely that the re-establishment of the missile bases would be known in this country until long after they had been set up.

What the Soviet Union has done in Cuba is contrary not only to the Monroe Doctrine but to the resolutions adopted by the Organization of American States which condemn as a hostile act to all these nations the establishment of any base in this hemisphere by outside powers.

Slip Of The Tongue

By Fred S. Hoffman

WASHINGTON

An apparent slip of the tongue by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara shows how difficult it is to maintain an official line at all times when the realities clash with that line.

"We have no plans at present to send further combat units to South Viet Nam," McNamara told newsmen in Texas after conferring with President Johnson about the budget and other matters.

It was McNamara's use of the word "further" that brought reporters up short. That word suggests the United States already has combat units in South Viet Nam.

The official transcript of McNamara's comments Tuesday did not include the word "further." Newsmen who heard the word at the time and checked on the deletion said the omission appeared to be inadvertent. A tape recording shows that the word was used.

Neither McNamara nor any other responsible U.S. official ever has said that any of the 20,000 or so American military men in South Viet Nam are there to fight.

The official position — from which McNamara never before has deviated — holds that the considerable American force has the mission of advising and helping the South Vietnamese to fight for their own independence and freedom.

McNamara gave a succinct summation of the U.S. policy line last Sept. 30 during a television interview.

"It's their war; they must win it. They must fight it, and only they can win it," McNamara said.

"We are providing logistical support, military advice, transport assistance. We are not carrying on the battle ourselves. We cannot stand in their place and fight the Communists within the borders of their country."

The U.S. government has held to this stand in the face of clear evidence that U.S. Army helicopters equipped with rockets and machine guns have mounted attack after attack against Communist guerrillas.

This government has continued to insist that many of the bombing and planned assaults by U.S. planes against Red Viet Cong positions and hideouts are training flights for South Vietnamese air force men who go along on such missions.

Questions could be raised about the role of the B57 medium jet bombers and the interceptor jets sent into South Viet Nam after the Gulf of Tonkin incidents in early August, but these are intended for use either against targets in North Viet Nam or to defend South Viet Nam from outside air attack rather than as part of the anti-guerrilla war inside the country.

Taft Will Wait Recount Decision

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr. says he will await for the official canvass before deciding if he will ask for a recount in his close election defeat for a U. S. Senate seat last week.

Taft, seeking the seat once held by his father, the late Robert A. Taft, was beaten Nov. 3 by Democratic incumbent, Sen. Stephen Young of Cleveland.

When Lawmakers Return Monday

Legislature's Workload Will Switch To Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Congressional redistricting remains as the House's problem, but the workload—in terms of number of bills to consider—switches to the Senate when state lawmakers return Monday.

Both houses adjourned Wednesday.

In three days of floor sessions since this special session started Monday, 18 bills have been introduced in the House. Twelve have been passed and sent along to the Senate.

Senators have acted on only one of the 12, an emergency measure dealing with advance-dated state checks bearing the signature of State Auditor Roger W. Tracy, who died Monday.

Additionally, senators have yet to act on six bills introduced in their own chamber. They have adopted three of five resolutions offered in the Senate. Two, dealing with adjournment Wednesday and honoring the late Sen. Gordon G. Renner, also were adopted by the House. The other dealt with appointment of Renner's successor, Michael J. Maloney of Cincinnati.

In its only other action Wednesday, the Senate saw introdued two resolutions calling for constitutional amendments which would be submitted to voters at the primary election next May.

One results from a unanimous state Supreme Court decision last March 18. It declared unconstitutional a program of loans to attract or expand industry for Ohio.

A law, enacted by this legislature in 1963 at Gov. James A. Rhodes' bidding, created a seven-member Development Financing Commission.

It was authorized to issue revenue bonds to make mortgage loans for new or expanding plants, and had approved loans to nine firms totaling almost $6.8 million. Then came the court's decision in a test suit filed by Atty Gen. William Saxbe, saying it violated the constitutional ban against loaning the state's credit to aid private interests.

Approval of the constitutional amendment by legislators and voters presumably would clear the way again.

The other proposed amendment is for the multi-million-dollar bond issue for new prisons, universities, etc., discussed by Rhodes as a news conference Tuesday. Its sponsor, Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Lima, said costs of capital improvements proposed must be worked out.

The need, Pepple said, "may be less than $275 million, or it may be slightly over this amount." Bonds would be issued within five years, not run over 30 years and no more than $20 million must be required to meet principal and interest in a given year, the senator said.

Another constitutional amendment—to reapportion the legislature so districts are approximately equal in population as directed by the U. S. Supreme Court—is on the horizon but has not yet been proposed in this session.

The House passed, and sent to the Senate, eight bills Wednesday. The decisions including votes of:

109-2 to create a Cleveland State University with Fenn College as the probable nucleus. Sponsors said it would include colleges of education, liberal arts, business and engineering and be in operation by next September. Appropriations to finance it will come up in the regular session starting in January, and Rhodes has designated $37.5 million in the new bond issue for it.

112-0 to establish a fourth medical school in Ohio at the University of Toledo. Others are at Ohio State University, University of Cincinnati and Western Reserve.

Brandy is distilled from wine.

Lisbon Jaycees Honor Member

LISBON — Walter Thomas, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was named "Jaycee for October" at its meeting Wednesday evening in the Morgan building.

A report was given on the Christmas tree lighting project and as it is ahead of schedule all that remains is erection of several scenes on the Public Square.

Jaycees discussed their annual Santa Claus Parade scheduled Nov. 28. Entries of bands and floats still are needed. Prizes of $15 and $10 for first and second place will be given in three categories — religious and non-religious floats and marching units.

The parade will form at the McKinley School and move promptly at 2 p. m. All units are to be at the school by 1.

Some 2,000 treats will be packed by Jaycee members and their wives Nov. 22, with Jerry Rose chairman.

Santa Claus will ride on a float and then hand out the treats on the square.

M. J. Russell Claimed At 77

Marlow J. Russell, 937 Montgomery Ave., a former custodian at Central School and the former First Presbyterian Church, died at 5:40 a. m. today at City Hospital following a brief illness. He was 77.

Mr. Russell was born in Gallipolis April 27, 1887, to Mr. and Mrs. John Louis Russell, and had resided in East Liverpool 20 years.

He was a custodian at Central School for 20 years after formerly working in area potteries. He retired seven years ago after also serving as custodian at the former First Presbyterian Church, which was razed.

Mr. Russell was a member of the Calvary Methodist Church and Senior Citizens and was an honorary member of the IBOP.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Florence Glenn Russell; a daughter, Mrs. Paul (Lois) McHenry of Chester; a son, C. Glenn Russell of East Liverpool; a brother, Claude Russell of East Liverpool, and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. Irwin Jennings. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call Friday at the funeral home.

Former Palestine Office Manager Dies

EAST PALESTINE — Charles Sutherin, 143 S. Market St., a retired office manager, died this morning at 2:35 at Armstrong County (Pa.) Memorial Hospital at Kittanning, where he was taken after a heart attack Wednesday. He was 86.

He had been residing with a niece, Mrs. James Sprout, of Kittanning for about a week.

Born April 21, 1878, at Topeka, Kan., he was a son of Henry P. Sutherin and Ellen Funkhouser Sutherin.

During his early life he served as credit manager for Butler Brothers and Sears & Roebuck Co. at Chicago. Later, in the 1930's, he was office manager of Procel Co., a paper concern here. He retired about 15 years ago.

He served as secretary for the Centenary Methodist Church for many years, and taught a Sunday School Class and was in many church positions.

A graduate of Mt. Union College at Alliance, he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. A noted book collector, he donated a number of his volumes to the college, and a section of the library is named in his honor.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Frank W. Smith of Ocean Grove, N.J., and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at the Oliver Funeral Home by the Rev. Thomas Hammerton. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call Friday night at the funeral home.

Taft Will Wait Recount Decision

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr. says he will await for the official canvass before deciding if he will ask for a recount in his close election defeat for a U. S. Senate seat last week.

Taft, seeking the seat once held by his father, the late Robert A. Taft, was beaten Nov. 3 by Democratic incumbent, Sen. Stephen Young of Cleveland.

When Lawmakers Return Monday

Legislature's Workload Will Switch To Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Congressional redistricting remains as the House's problem, but the workload—in terms of number of bills to consider—switches to the Senate when state lawmakers return Monday.

Both houses adjourned Wednesday.

In three days of floor sessions since this special session started Monday, 18 bills have been introduced in the House. Twelve have been passed and sent along to the Senate.

Senators have acted on only one of the 12, an emergency measure dealing with advance-dated state checks bearing the signature of State Auditor Roger W. Tracy, who died Monday.

Additionally, senators have yet to act on six bills introduced in their own chamber. They have adopted three of five resolutions offered in the Senate. Two, dealing with adjournment Wednesday and honoring the late Sen. Gordon G. Renner, also were adopted by the House. The other dealt with appointment of Renner's successor, Michael J. Maloney of Cincinnati.

In its only other action Wednesday, the Senate saw introdued two resolutions calling for constitutional amendments which would be submitted to voters at the primary election next May.

One results from a unanimous state Supreme Court decision last March 18. It declared unconstitutional a program of loans to attract or expand industry for Ohio.

A law, enacted by this legislature in 1963 at Gov. James A. Rhodes' bidding, created a seven-member Development Financing Commission.

It was authorized to issue revenue bonds to make mortgage loans for new or expanding plants, and had approved loans to nine firms totaling almost $6.8 million. Then came the court's decision in a test suit filed by Atty Gen. William Saxbe, saying it violated the constitutional ban against loaning the state's credit to aid private interests.

Approval of the constitutional amendment by legislators and voters presumably would clear the way again.

The other proposed amendment is for the multi-million-dollar bond issue for new prisons, universities, etc., discussed by Rhodes as a news conference Tuesday. Its sponsor, Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Lima, said costs of capital improvements proposed must be worked out.

The need, Pepple said, "may be less than $275 million, or it may be slightly over this amount." Bonds would be issued within five years, not run over 30 years and no more than $20 million must be required to meet principal and interest in a given year, the senator said.

Another constitutional amendment—to reapportion the legislature so districts are approximately equal in population as directed by the U. S. Supreme Court—is on the horizon but has not yet been proposed in this session.

The House passed, and sent to the Senate, eight bills Wednesday. The decisions including votes of:

109-2 to create a Cleveland State University with Fenn College as the probable nucleus. Sponsors said it would include colleges of education, liberal arts, business and engineering and be in operation by next September. Appropriations to finance it will come up in the regular session starting in January, and Rhodes has designated $37.5 million in the new bond issue for it.

112-0 to establish a fourth medical school in Ohio at the University of Toledo. Others are at Ohio State University, University of Cincinnati and Western Reserve.

Brandy is distilled from wine.

Lisbon Jaycees Honor Member

LISBON — Walter Thomas, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was named "Jaycee for October" at its meeting Wednesday evening in the Morgan building.

A report was given on the Christmas tree lighting project and as it is ahead of schedule all that remains is erection of several scenes on the Public Square.

Jaycees discussed their annual Santa Claus Parade scheduled Nov. 28. Entries of bands and floats still are needed. Prizes of $15 and $10 for first and second place will be given in three categories — religious and non-religious floats and marching units.

The parade will form at the McKinley School and move promptly at 2 p. m. All units are to be at the school by 1.

Some 2,000 treats will be packed by Jaycee members and their wives Nov. 22, with Jerry Rose chairman.

Santa Claus will ride on a float and then hand out the treats on the square.

Missionary Aide Due At Lisbon Event

LISBON — Dr. Warner Muir will be principal speaker at the District 7 Christian Church convention to be held Sunday, discussing a missionary theme at the evening worship at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Muir is executive secretary of the India Department of the United Christian Missionary Society.

A member of the national committee on restructure of the Christian churches, Dr. Muir will discuss that of the afternoon session with Dr. Franklin Minck of Akron assisting.

Formerly pastor of the University Christian Church of Des Moines, Dr. Muir was a minister for more than 32 years.

He has served as a member of the Board of Managers and Board of Trustees of the United Christian Missionary Society and the Board of Directors of the Council on Christian unity. He is a Director on the Christian Board of Publication.

A founding member of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, he was a member of the executive committee of the 1965 Assembly of the World convention of Churches of Christ (Disciples) and a member of three commissions of the international convention.

He went to the Philippines and Japan in 1954 as a member of an observation committee to assist Christian Churches in plans for their development. He wrote a report for the commission, which has become a basic document. In 1960 he attended the World Assembly convention in Scotland.

Dr. Muir is the author of many articles in church magazines and for a decade, wrote Church School lessons for the Christian Board of Publications.

At Friday's Meeting

District Lions Official To Be City Club Guest

Dr. John M. Snively of Minerva, Lions District governor, will pay his official visit to the local club at its meeting Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Richard C. Martin, president, will introduce the 39 - year-old dentist.

A native of Carrollton, Dr. Snively attended Muskingum College after serving 32 months in the Seabees during World War II. He received his dental degree from Western Reserve University in 1952 and opened practice in Minerva.

Married and the father of four children, Dr. Snively has held six offices in his club since becoming a Lion in 1952. He also served as zone chairman and deputy governor before his elevation to the top district post.

As president of the Minerva club, he originated the biannual glaucoma clinic.

He was one of the founders of Junior League baseball in the Stark County city and has been coach of the Lions' entry for 11 years. He and his wife are Sunday School teachers in the Lutheran Church and Dr. Snively also has served on the Church Council and the building committee.

DR. J. M. SNIVELY
He'll Pay Official Visit.

Meanwhile, the club is making plans for its annual Christmas party for needy children on Dec. 18.

George McCullough, international counselor, heads the committee, assisted by George Beck, William McDonald and Charles Huddleston.

Fuss At Breakfast With Wife Or Son

Ever Wonder Why Boss Is Cranky In Morning?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ever wonder why the boss is unreasonable sometimes in the morning?

Or cranky?

Perhaps even hostile?

A prominent psychiatrist says you probably can blame it on that argument he had at breakfast with his son or his wife.

Dr. Francis J. Braceland of Hartford, Conn., former psychiatrist in chief in the U.S. surgeons general's office, says the executive can't check his personal problems — like that early morning argument at home — at the parking lot. He has to bring them into the office.

Dr. Braceland told a conference sponsored by the Society for Advancement of Management: "The hazards which the executive brings into his office with him are in many instances more difficult for him to cope with than the ones he encounters there."

The boss with poor human relations, said Dr. Braceland, tends "to increase neurotic and psychosomatic reactions all around him."

This results in high labor turnover sometimes, he added, pointing out that "from 60 to 80 per cent of all dismissals in industry are due to social incompetence rather than industrial failure."

Dr. Braceland, in his prepared remarks, suggested that "for an official to be badly maladjusted is worse than if he had the measles."

"One of the disadvantages of many modern industrial set-ups is that all too often work fails to provide emotional satisfactions which men need in their occupation."

Dr. Braceland said a boss's personality covers a wide range and insisted "there is no invariable executive type."

Indian's Critical Food Shortage Seen Easing

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's critical food shortage appears to be easing slightly.

Government spokesmen said 6,000 tons of rice had reached Kerala State and stocks in government grain stores had increased to 18,000 tons. They said a bumper winter rice crop is expected.

Entomology is that branch of zoology which treats of insects.

THANK YOU

I wish to express my deepest appreciation to the voters of Columbiana County for electing me Judge of the 7th District Court of Appeals. To the many friends who worked so diligently in my behalf, I shall be eternally grateful.

Sincerely,

Extradition Hearing Set In Nurse Death

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The fiancee of 21-year-old Robert R. Abbott, who faces a murder charge in Ohio in the trunk slaying of Wanda Cook, will appear at an extradition hearing for Abbott today.

Miss Alice Ewing, 22, Fort Thomas, Ky., who told police she helped Abbott take Miss Cook's body from a Cincinnati hotel, may be needed to prove that Abbott was in Ohio on the day of the killing, Ohio authorities said.

Abbott, who has been indicted on a murder charge by the Hamilton County, Ohio, grand jury, apparently will not be present for the hearing. It is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. in Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's conference room.

Miss Cook, 24, a nurse at the University of Kentucky Medical School at Lexington, was shot to death late Oct. 15 or early Oct. 16. Police believe the slaying occurred in a Cincinnati hotel room.

Her body was placed in a large trunk and shipped to Cleveland, Ohio, where it was found in the railroad station's baggage room Oct. 21.

Abbott is in jail at Newport, Ky., and has refused to waive extradition to Ohio to stand trial. His home is Dayton, Ky.

Miss Ewing's appearance may be the key in the extradition procedure. A basic question to be resolved is whether Abbott was in Ohio on the day of the slaying.

William Curlin, Breathitt's extradition hearing officer, said the burden of proof will be on Abbott to show why he should not be turned over to Ohio authorities. Abbott's attorney is Harry Mcilwain, an Ohio state representative.

Ohio will be represented by Raymond E. Shannon, Hamilton County prosecutor; an assistant; and Sgt. Russell Jackson, head of the homicide division of Cincinnati police.

U.S. Embassy Cites 'Clumsy Forgeries'

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — A U.S. Embassy spokesman has labeled as "clumsy forgeries" three documents that a government paper said were proof that foreign powers intend to attack Tanzania.

The spokesman denied that the United States was involved in a plot to use white mercenaries to attack the East African nation.

Drives 12-Cylinder Lincoln Limousine

Youngster, 18, Travels To School In Classy Style

MIDDLETON, Mass. (AP) — Those who commute to school with Bradburn Barrows, 18, travel in comfort and style foreign to today's hot-rodders.

Bradburn drives a shiny, black, 12-cylinder Lincoln limousine that's 19½ feet long and fitted out like a living room.

It has leather upholstery, teakwood paneling, foot pillows, chromium fixtures, window blinds, an intercom system and a roll-down window that separates the passengers from the chauffeur.

"This is the greatest," said young Barrows today. "We didn't know such comfort when I was driving my 1932 hot-rod with no hood and no roof.

"We've had as many as 17 in the car. At drive-in theaters we invite young people from other cars to join us and sit around in a crowd.

"We've had football rallies, birthday parties and even smokeouts in the car.

For the unknowing, Barrows explains that a smokeout is when a bunch of guys sit around in the car smoking cigars and cigarettes with all the windows up and the blinds down.

Ron Melzard, 17, another companion, said of the smokeouts: "It occupies us. It's better than sitting around getting into trouble."

Barrows said he isn't trying to compete with the school buses, "but the more kids I pack into the car the more there are to chip in for gas."

"They don't make 12-cylinder cars any more. This car is a 1939 model, and it's not exactly gentle on gas consumption. I bet I don't get eight miles a gallon on it.

"We've ordered as much as 20 gallons at one time, and the gas tank wasn't even full. And the other day when the oil was changed it took 11 quarts."

Young Barrows obtained the 1939 Lincoln recently through his father, R. Lionel Barrows, coinventor of an automatic pinsetting machine for bowling.

The elder Barrows said he had got the Lincoln from a friend, Merton Barrows of nearby Topsfield, who is no relation, by putting up a 1919 Model T Ford and $1,500.

More Than 1,000 Drowned

Red Guns, Rain Hamper Efforts In Viet Flood

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist antiaircraft fire and constantly pounding rain hampered efforts today to assist thousands caught in central Viet Nam's major flood disaster.

More than 1,000 persons have been reported drowned in flood waters that have surged through 10 provinces.

Many were caught in flood waters that burst out of the mountains in Guang Tin Province.

Other deaths were reported in coastal Binh Dinh Province.

The U.S. commander in Viet Nam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, dispatched a team of logistic and medical experts to the central region today.

West of Saigon, Communist guerrillas ambushed a government infantry column on its way to a hamlet under attack, killing 26 of the government troops and wounding 33. No Americans were reported with the government unit.

The Vietnamese News Agency published a message of support from President Johnson to Premier Tran Van Huong, who took over the government two weeks ago.

But despite support from the Vietnamese armed forces and the United States, Huong's position appeared shaky. Students were still talking of demonstrations against his government if he does not order a Cabinet reshuffle by Friday, and Buddhist leaders said their attitude toward the government was one of "wait and see."

Rhodes Says Ohio Should Become No. 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's business leaders have been told by Gov. James A. Rhodes that the state has a bright future and should become "the No. 1 state in the nation."

The governor, speaking Wednesday at a luncheon session of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, said Ohio already leads the nation in some areas including interstate highway construction.

"We will be the first state in the nation to complete our interstate highway system," Rhodes told the delegates.

He added that his administration has programs under way to make Ohio first in other categories. He said these include historical sites and aviation.

Samuel Lubell, New York political columnist, gave his analysis of the Nov. 3 election to the chamber members.

He said much of the Democratic landslide can be attributed to the "anti-Goldwater" vote but added: "There is a very serious danger of a one-party system in America."

Ralph R. Baldenhofer of Springfield was elected president of the state chamber. He succeeds Barton Holl of Logan who ended his two-year term and became chairman of the board.

Missionary Aide Due At Lisbon Event

LISBON — Dr. Warner Muir will be principal speaker at the District 7 Christian Church convention to be held Sunday, discussing a missionary theme at the evening worship at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Muir is executive secretary of the India Department of the United Christian Missionary Society.

A member of the national committee on restructure of the Christian churches, Dr. Muir will discuss that of the afternoon session with Dr. Franklin Minck of Akron assisting.

Formerly pastor of the University Christian Church of Des Moines, Dr. Muir was a minister for more than 32 years.

He has served as a member of the Board of Managers and Board of Trustees of the United Christian Missionary Society and the Board of Directors of the Council on Christian unity. He is a Director on the Christian Board of Publication.

A founding member of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, he was a member of the executive committee of the 1965 Assembly of the World convention of Churches of Christ (Disciples) and a member of three commissions of the international convention.

He went to the Philippines and Japan in 1954 as a member of an observation committee to assist Christian Churches in plans for their development. He wrote a report for the commission, which has become a basic document. In 1960 he attended the World Assembly convention in Scotland.

Dr. Muir is the author of many articles in church magazines and for a decade, wrote Church School lessons for the Christian Board of Publications.

Wellsville Air Patrol Enrolls 2 Members

Bill Cupp and Gary Burrows were accepted as new members at a meeting of the Wellsville Civil Air Patrol Wednesday night at the Daw Junior High School.

Fourteen cadets and four seniors attended. Three senior members took a test on drills and ceremonies.

A film, "Sky Watch 55," was screened. The unit will meet again next Wednesday night at 7 at the school.

District Lions Official To Be City Club Guest

Dr. John M. Snively of Minerva, Lions District governor, will pay his official visit to the local club at its meeting Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Richard C. Martin, president, will introduce the 39 - year-old dentist.

A native of Carrollton, Dr. Snively attended Muskingum College after serving 32 months in the Seabees during World War II. He received his dental degree from Western Reserve University in 1952 and opened practice in Minerva.

Married and the father of four children, Dr. Snively has held six offices in his club since becoming a Lion in 1952. He also served as zone chairman and deputy governor before his elevation to the top district post.

As president of the Minerva club, he originated the biannual glaucoma clinic.

He was one of the founders of Junior League baseball in the Stark County city and has been coach of the Lions' entry for 11 years. He and his wife are Sunday School teachers in the Lutheran Church and Dr. Snively also has served on the Church Council and the building committee.

DR. J. M. SNIVELY
He'll Pay Official Visit.

Meanwhile, the club is making plans for its annual Christmas party for needy children on Dec. 18.

George McCullough, international counselor, heads the committee, assisted by George Beck, William McDonald and Charles Huddleston.

Fuss At Breakfast With Wife Or Son

Ever Wonder Why Boss Is Cranky In Morning?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ever wonder why the boss is unreasonable sometimes in the morning?

Or cranky?

Perhaps even hostile?

A prominent psychiatrist says you probably can blame it on that argument he had at breakfast with his son or his wife.

Dr. Francis J. Braceland of Hartford, Conn., former psychiatrist in chief in the U.S. surgeons general's office, says the executive can't check his personal problems — like that early morning argument at home — at the parking lot. He has to bring them into the office.

Dr. Braceland told a conference sponsored by the Society for Advancement of Management: "The hazards which the executive brings into his office with him are in many instances more difficult for him to cope with than the ones he encounters there."

The boss with poor human relations, said Dr. Braceland, tends "to increase neurotic and psychosomatic reactions all around him."

This results in high labor turnover sometimes, he added, pointing out that "from 60 to 80 per cent of all dismissals in industry are due to social incompetence rather than industrial failure."

Dr. Braceland, in his prepared remarks, suggested that "for an official to be badly maladjusted is worse than if he had the measles."

"One of the disadvantages of many modern industrial set-ups is that all too often work fails to provide emotional satisfactions which men need in their occupation."

Dr. Braceland said a boss's personality covers a wide range and insisted "there is no invariable executive type."

Indian's Critical Food Shortage Seen Easing

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's critical food shortage appears to be easing slightly.

Government spokesmen said 6,000 tons of rice had reached Kerala State and stocks in government grain stores had increased to 18,000 tons. They said a bumper winter rice crop is expected.

Entomology is that branch of zoology which treats of insects.

Extradition Hearing Set In Nurse Death

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The fiancee of 21-year-old Robert R. Abbott, who faces a murder charge in Ohio in the trunk slaying of Wanda Cook, will appear at an extradition hearing for Abbott today.

Miss Alice Ewing, 22, Fort Thomas, Ky., who told police she helped Abbott take Miss Cook's body from a Cincinnati hotel, may be needed to prove that Abbott was in Ohio on the day of the killing, Ohio authorities said.

Abbott, who has been indicted on a murder charge by the Hamilton County, Ohio, grand jury, apparently will not be present for the hearing. It is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. in Gov. Edward T. Breathitt's conference room.

Miss Cook, 24, a nurse at the University of Kentucky Medical School at Lexington, was shot to death late Oct. 15 or early Oct. 16. Police believe the slaying occurred in a Cincinnati hotel room.

Her body was placed in a large trunk and shipped to Cleveland, Ohio, where it was found in the railroad station's baggage room Oct. 21.

Abbott is in jail at Newport, Ky., and has refused to waive extradition to Ohio to stand trial. His home is Dayton, Ky.

Miss Ewing's appearance may be the key in the extradition procedure. A basic question to be resolved is whether Abbott was in Ohio on the day of the slaying.

William Curlin, Breathitt's extradition hearing officer, said the burden of proof will be on Abbott to show why he should not be turned over to Ohio authorities. Abbott's attorney is Harry Mcilwain, an Ohio state representative.

Ohio will be represented by Raymond E. Shannon, Hamilton County prosecutor; an assistant; and Sgt. Russell Jackson, head of the homicide division of Cincinnati police.

U.S. Embassy Cites 'Clumsy Forgeries'

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — A U.S. Embassy spokesman has labeled as "clumsy forgeries" three documents that a government paper said were proof that foreign powers intend to attack Tanzania.

The spokesman denied that the United States was involved in a plot to use white mercenaries to attack the East African nation.

Drives 12-Cylinder Lincoln Limousine

Youngster, 18, Travels To School In Classy Style

MIDDLETON, Mass. (AP) — Those who commute to school with Bradburn Barrows, 18, travel in comfort and style foreign to today's hot-rodders.

Bradburn drives a shiny, black, 12-cylinder Lincoln limousine that's 19½ feet long and fitted out like a living room.

It has leather upholstery, teakwood paneling, foot pillows, chromium fixtures, window blinds, an intercom system and a roll-down window that separates the passengers from the chauffeur.

"This is the greatest," said young Barrows today. "We didn't know such comfort when I was driving my 1932 hot-rod with no hood and no roof.

"We've had as many as 17 in the car. At drive-in theaters we invite young people from other cars to join us and sit around in a crowd.

"We've had football rallies, birthday parties and even smokeouts in the car.

For the unknowing, Barrows explains that a smokeout is when a bunch of guys sit around in the car smoking cigars and cigarettes with all the windows up and the blinds down.

Ron Melzard, 17, another companion, said of the smokeouts: "It occupies us. It's better than sitting around getting into trouble."

Barrows said he isn't trying to compete with the school buses, "but the more kids I pack into the car the more there are to chip in for gas."

"They don't make 12-cylinder cars any more. This car is a 1939 model, and it's not exactly gentle on gas consumption. I bet I don't get eight miles a gallon on it.

"We've ordered as much as 20 gallons at one time, and the gas tank wasn't even full. And the other day when the oil was changed it took 11 quarts."

Young Barrows obtained the 1939 Lincoln recently through his father, R. Lionel Barrows, coinventor of an automatic pinsetting machine for bowling.

The elder Barrows said he had got the Lincoln from a friend, Merton Barrows of nearby Topsfield, who is no relation, by putting up a 1919 Model T Ford and $1,500.

More Than 1,000 Drowned

Red Guns, Rain Hamper Efforts In Viet Flood

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist antiaircraft fire and constantly pounding rain hampered efforts today to assist thousands caught in central Viet Nam's major flood disaster.

More than 1,000 persons have been reported drowned in flood waters that have surged through 10 provinces.

Many were caught in flood waters that burst out of the mountains in Guang Tin Province.

Other deaths were reported in coastal Binh Dinh Province.

The U.S. commander in Viet Nam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, dispatched a team of logistic and medical experts to the central region today.

West of Saigon, Communist guerrillas ambushed a government infantry column on its way to a hamlet under attack, killing 26 of the government troops and wounding 33. No Americans were reported with the government unit.

The Vietnamese News Agency published a message of support from President Johnson to Premier Tran Van Huong, who took over the government two weeks ago.

But despite support from the Vietnamese armed forces and the United States, Huong's position appeared shaky. Students were still talking of demonstrations against his government if he does not order a Cabinet reshuffle by Friday, and Buddhist leaders said their attitude toward the government was one of "wait and see."

Rhodes Says Ohio Should Become No. 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's business leaders have been told by Gov. James A. Rhodes that the state has a bright future and should become "the No. 1 state in the nation."

The governor, speaking Wednesday at a luncheon session of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, said Ohio already leads the nation in some areas including interstate highway construction.

"We will be the first state in the nation to complete our interstate highway system," Rhodes told the delegates.

He added that his administration has programs under way to make Ohio first in other categories. He said these include historical sites and aviation.

Samuel Lubell, New York political columnist, gave his analysis of the Nov. 3 election to the chamber members.

1,875 Attend School Events

About 1,875 attended open house events in Midland district schools this week in observance of American Education Week.

Approximately 800 visited the Fairview Elementary School in Ohioville and the Ray Snyder Elementary School in Industry Tuesday.

Some 700 attended the Western Beaver High School event in Industry Monday night.

The parents and other guests were greeted by the faculty members, the Ushers Club and the Home Economics group. Frank Meredith, supervising principal of the Western Beaver County Schools, was also present.

Displays with the Thanksgiving theme were decorations. Refreshments were served in each school by the cafeteria personnel.

Corsages and boutonnieres were presented teachers at the Snyder School by members of the Parent - Teacher Association.

About 175 attended the program at the Midland 4th St. School Tuesday evening. Parents were greeted by John Wilson, elementary principal, and the officers of the Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. George Studen is president.

In charge of registration were Mrs. Rose Prodonovich, Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. James Adkins and Mrs. Robert Reighard.

About 200 visited Midland High School Monday evening and members of the faculty and Principal William Walters greeted the guests. Refreshments were served.

U.S. Takes First Step For Helping Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The United States took its first, tentative step today toward helping Malaysia fight off an Indonesian military threat as a U.S. defense team opened talks on possible arms aid to this country.

The eight-man team, which arrived Wednesday, held its first meeting with Malaysian defense officials to determine where and how American assistance might fit into a largely British-oriented armed forces program.

The sessions, expected to last two weeks, were behind closed doors, and no details were likely to be known immediately.

Malaysia is known, however, to have a shopping list that includes planes and training for men to fly them.

Rainmaker

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Not Sure He Brought Drizzle

FITCHBURG, Mass. (AP) — Back when the country was younger, Pueblo Indians did a masked dance to bring rain. Hopi Indians snake-danced for rain. Tribal medicine men trotted out their strongest magic for the same end.

Now rainmaking is being tried again, this time in Massachusetts. No snake dancing is involved or magic — just science. But, as the Indian rain doctors found out, the results are uncertain, and even if rain falls, no one can be sure the rainmaking caused it.

Despite the continued efforts of a professional rainmaker, only .07 of an inch of drizzly rain has fallen on this drought-stricken highly industrialized city in the past 48 hours.

Dr. Wallace E. Howell, head of W. E. Howell Associates of Lexington, which has been hired by Fitchburg-area industrialists to make rain over the parched area, had four silver iodide generators in operation Wednesday.

He said, however, he wasn't sure it would not have rained without his efforts.

Howell uses a propane fuel tank with a small generator. By burning a piece of twine impregnated with silver iodide, the machinery produces a volume of colorless smoke which rises into the natural clouds. There the iodide crystals serve as seeds on which snowflakes form and produce rain when they reach lower levels.

But Howell said mile-deep clouds are needed for moisture enough to make a worth-while amount of rain, and there haven't been clouds of that density in the past few days.

Howell is being paid $9,000 by a group of manufacturers for his efforts. He plans to continue seeding clouds that are likely to produce rain until told to stop by his employers.

Howell said he had seeded clouds near Calais, Maine, for the St. Croix Paper Co. several weeks ago and that a substantial amount of rain had fallen over the area.

The last appreciable rainfall in central Massachusetts was last April 23.

Jaycees Set County Contest For 'Junior Miss Pageant'

The Wellsville Jaycees are making plans to sponsor the Junior Miss Pageant in Columbiana County, with local girls to compete for the state and national pageants.

Ralph Fusco, chairman, said contestants must be single and between 16 and 18, and not be 19 before March.

A screening committee will check all references. Contestants will compete in sportswear and evening gowns, and there will be one night devoted to talent acts before a panel of judges.

On the final night of the local pageant, seven finalists will be required to complete three phases of performing before an audience.

The Columbiana County winner will enter the state pageant. The winner here will move on to Mobile, Ala., for national competition.

Fusco said each entry will receive a prize, and the top three winners will receive trophies.

"The winner will receive a sizeable scholarship plus many other prizes donated by county merchants, he said.

Contestants may contact their local Jaycee groups or write to the Wellsville Jaycees, Box 273, Wellsville, for information on entering the pageant.

Industry Girl Bitten By Dog

Two Industry area girls—one bitten by a dog, the other hurt on a bicycle — were in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital. Six other area residents were treated Wednesday after separate mishaps.

Kimberly Madish, 5, of Barkley Hill Rd., near Industry received wounds over the right eye and cheek when bitten by a dog at home. She was taken to the hospital by her uncle, John Onuska.

Melissa Hays, 11, daughter of Albert Hays, 954 Pine Grove Rd., Industry, received a severe laceration of the left heel which became caught in the spokes of a cycle.

Diane Fickle, 9, daughter of Robert Fickle of Woodbine Ave., suffered a laceration of the right hand in a fall on a piece of glass at home.

Struck on the nose by a board, James Sanford, 4, son of Ronald Sanford of Densmore Ave., LaCroft, received bruises of the nose.

Joseph Carr, 5, son of Joseph Carr, 711 Burford St., suffered a head injury in a fall from a porch.

Kim Raffa, 2, of 825 Phoenix Ave., Chester, received bruises of the left hand on a car door.

Elmer Tice, 15, of Empire suffered an injury of the right hand in football practice at Stanton Local High School.

Robert Conlon, 31, of Toronto R. D. 2, employe of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., was treated yesterday morning for an injury of the left temple after he was struck by a hammer handle at work.

The first successful Atlantic telegraph cable was laid in 1866 by Cyrus W. Field from Newfoundland to Ireland.

Work To Resume After Stoppage At White Motor

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—After a one-day work stoppage resulting from picketing by White Motor Co. strikers from Cleveland, the firm's Lansing Division planned to resume full operations today.

Some 1,000 United Auto Workers Local 650 members refused to cross a picket line Wednesday morning. Both the company and local president Raymond Reed called the work stoppage unauthorized.

The company said the UAW's contract with the Lansing Division had been extended, although the union has struck company plants at Cleveland, Philadelphia and Exton, Pa., in support of new contract demands.

The pickets were withdrawn later in the day by order of UAW regional director Pat O'Malley in Cleveland, Reed said.

Reed then directed Local 650 members to return to work today.

He said a UAW meeting in Cleveland today will settle whether Local 650 has authorization to strike.

Policeman Thought Book Looked Familiar

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sgt. Patrick L. Kearney thought the book looked familiar.

He spotted a 21-year-old man carrying the book, partly wrapped in a newspaper, through the first-floor lobby of Central Police Station.

The man said he was a lawyer and used the book for reference. Kearney questioned further. The man confessed.

Wrapped in the newspaper was a City of Cleveland criminal code book. The man admitted stealing it from the third-floor Detective Bureau.

Lisbon Nurse Group Elects

The Lisbon Registered Nurses Association elected Mrs. Paul Morlan, president at the initial meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Peter Cibula of W. Chestnut St.

Mrs. Joseph Baronzzi assisted. Mrs. Cornell Monday was elected vice president and program chairman and Mrs. William Jones, secretary-treasurer.

The association was organized for the purpose of providing local registered nurses and educational programs of new developments and techniques of the nursing profession.

Committees appointed were Mrs. J. William Peterson and Mrs. Wilbur Whan, constitution, and Mrs. Cibula and Mrs. Baronzzi, membership.

Guests were Mrs. David Peterson, Mrs. William Southern and Mrs. A. M. Simpson, all of the East Palestine Registered Nurses Association.

A "Get-Acquainted" meeting will be held Dec. 8 at the home of Mrs. Glen Ward of E. Chestnut St. and all area registered nurses may attend.

Mrs. Arthur Morris, president of the Eagles Aerie auxiliary, presided at the meeting Tuesday evening at the lodge home.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas coverdish dinner party and gift exchange Dec. 15 at 6:30 p. m.

A white elephant sale was held during the social hour. Guests from the Salem auxiliary were Mrs. Ann Lozier and Mrs. Betty Stark.

Firemen Hope Rain Halts Rash Of Fires

CINCINNATI (AP)—Firemen are hoping there'll be enough rain today to halt the rash of grass and brush fires that have broken out in the last few days in Hamilton County and surrounding counties.

However, a Weather Bureau spokesman said the scattered showers predicted for today would only dampen the area and would not be enough to help the drought — blamed for most of the fires.

Not Sure He Brought Drizzle

FITCHBURG, Mass. (AP) — Back when the country was younger, Pueblo Indians did a masked dance to bring rain. Hopi Indians snake-danced for rain. Tribal medicine men trotted out their strongest magic for the same end.

Now rainmaking is being tried again, this time in Massachusetts. No snake dancing is involved or magic — just science. But, as the Indian rain doctors found out, the results are uncertain, and even if rain falls, no one can be sure the rainmaking caused it.

Despite the continued efforts of a professional rainmaker, only .07 of an inch of drizzly rain has fallen on this drought-stricken highly industrialized city in the past 48 hours.

Dr. Wallace E. Howell, head of W. E. Howell Associates of Lexington, which has been hired by Fitchburg-area industrialists to make rain over the parched area, had four silver iodide generators in operation Wednesday.

He said, however, he wasn't sure it would not have rained without his efforts.

Howell uses a propane fuel tank with a small generator. By burning a piece of twine impregnated with silver iodide, the machinery produces a volume of colorless smoke which rises into the natural clouds. There the iodide crystals serve as seeds on which snowflakes form and produce rain when they reach lower levels.

But Howell said mile-deep clouds are needed for moisture enough to make a worth-while amount of rain, and there haven't been clouds of that density in the past few days.

Howell is being paid $9,000 by a group of manufacturers for his efforts. He plans to continue seeding clouds that are likely to produce rain until told to stop by his employers.

Howell said he had seeded clouds near Calais, Maine, for the St. Croix Paper Co. several weeks ago and that a substantial amount of rain had fallen over the area.

The last appreciable rainfall in central Massachusetts was last April 23.

Jaycees Set County Contest For 'Junior Miss Pageant'

The Wellsville Jaycees are making plans to sponsor the Junior Miss Pageant in Columbiana County, with local girls to compete for the state and national pageants.

Ralph Fusco, chairman, said contestants must be single and between 16 and 18, and not be 19 before March.

A screening committee will check all references. Contestants will compete in sportswear and evening gowns, and there will be one night devoted to talent acts before a panel of judges.

On the final night of the local pageant, seven finalists will be required to complete three phases of performing before an audience.

The Columbiana County winner will enter the state pageant. The winner here will move on to Mobile, Ala., for national competition.

Fusco said each entry will receive a prize, and the top three winners will receive trophies. "The winner will receive a sizeable scholarship plus many other prizes donated by county merchants, he said.

Contestants may contact their local Jaycee groups or write to the Wellsville Jaycees, Box 273, Wellsville, for information on entering the pageant.

Industry Girl Bitten By Dog

Two Industry area girls—one bitten by a dog, the other hurt on a bicycle — were in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital. Six other area residents were treated Wednesday after separate mishaps.

Kimberly Madish, 5, of Barkley Hill Rd., near Industry received wounds over the right eye and cheek when bitten by a dog at home. She was taken to the hospital by her uncle, John Onuska.

Melissa Hays, 11, daughter of Albert Hays, 954 Pine Grove Rd., Industry, received a severe laceration of the left heel which became caught in the spokes of a cycle.

Diane Fickle, 9, daughter of Robert Fickle of Woodbine Ave., suffered a laceration of the right hand in a fall on a piece of glass at home.

Struck on the nose by a board, James Sanford, 4, son of Ronald Sanford of Densmore Ave., LaCroft, received bruises of the nose.

Joseph Carr, 5, son of Joseph Carr, 711 Burford St., suffered a head injury in a fall from a porch.

Kim Raffa, 2, of 825 Phoenix Ave., Chester, received bruises of the left hand on a car door.

Elmer Tice, 15, of Empire suffered an injury of the right hand in football practice at Stanton Local High School.

Robert Conlon, 31, of Toronto R. D. 2, employe of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., was treated yesterday morning for an injury of the left temple after he was struck by a hammer handle at work.

The first successful Atlantic telegraph cable was laid in 1866 by Cyrus W. Field from Newfoundland to Ireland.

Work To Resume After Stoppage At White Motor

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—After a one-day work stoppage resulting from picketing by White Motor Co. strikers from Cleveland, the firm's Lansing Division planned to resume full operations today.

Some 1,000 United Auto Workers Local 650 members refused to cross a picket line Wednesday morning. Both the company and local president Raymond Reed called the work stoppage unauthorized.

The company said the UAW's contract with the Lansing Division had been extended, although the union has struck company plants at Cleveland, Philadelphia and Exton, Pa., in support of new contract demands.

The pickets were withdrawn later in the day by order of UAW regional director Pat O'Malley in Cleveland, Reed said.

Reed then directed Local 650 members to return to work today.

He said a UAW meeting in Cleveland today will settle whether Local 650 has authorization to strike.

Policeman Thought Book Looked Familiar

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sgt. Patrick L. Kearney thought the book looked familiar.

He spotted a 21-year-old man carrying the book, partly wrapped in a newspaper, through the first-floor lobby of Central Police Station.

The man said he was a lawyer and used the book for reference. Kearney questioned further. The man confessed.

Wrapped in the newspaper was a City of Cleveland criminal code book. The man admitted stealing it from the third-floor Detective Bureau.

Lisbon Nurse Group Elects

The Lisbon Registered Nurses Association elected Mrs. Paul Morlan, president at the initial meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Peter Cibula of W. Chestnut St.

Mrs. Joseph Baronzzi assisted. Mrs. Cornell Monday was elected vice president and program chairman and Mrs. William Jones, secretary-treasurer.

The association was organized for the purpose of providing local registered nurses and educational programs of new developments and techniques of the nursing profession.

Committees appointed were Mrs. J. William Peterson and Mrs. Wilbur Whan, constitution, and Mrs. Cibula and Mrs. Baronzzi, membership.

Guests were Mrs. David Peterson, Mrs. William Southern and Mrs. A. M. Simpson, all of the East Palestine Registered Nurses Association.

A "Get-Acquainted" meeting will be held Dec. 8 at the home of Mrs. Glen Ward of E. Chestnut St. and all area registered nurses may attend.

Mrs. Arthur Morris, president of the Eagles Aerie auxiliary, presided at the meeting Tuesday evening at the lodge home.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas coverdish dinner party and gift exchange Dec. 15 at 6:30 p. m.

A white elephant sale was held during the social hour. Guests from the Salem auxiliary were Mrs. Ann Lozier and Mrs. Betty Stark.

Firemen Hope Rain Halts Rash Of Fires

CINCINNATI (AP)—Firemen are hoping there'll be enough rain today to halt the rash of grass and brush fires that have broken out in the last few days in Hamilton County and surrounding counties.

However, a Weather Bureau spokesman said the scattered showers predicted for today would only dampen the area and would not be enough to help the drought — blamed for most of the fires.

West Germany's Easing Pressure

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany is easing its pressure for prompt creation of the multinational nuclear fleet reportedly in exchange for France giving it more time to cut its grain prices to a European Common Market level.

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and members of his Christian Democratic party in the Bundestag announced after a party caucus Wednesday that because of "pending negotiations" on the U.S.-proposed fleet, "there is no cause for the German side to pressure for the creation of the nuclear force."

Local At Lorain Okays Contracts

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—National and local contract agreements between the Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union have been approved by members of UAW Local 425 at the Lorain assembly plant.

Frank Tlakowicz, local president, said about 2,450 of the 4,200 members cast ballots Tuesday and Wednesday.

A Ford spokesman said in Cleveland Wednesday that 4,100 production workers at the Lorain plant will be furloughed by midnight Friday because of a parts shortage unless there is a quick settlement of strikes at other Ford plants throughout the country.

He said the work force at the Ford forge plant in Canton was reduced from 1,200 to 900 Wednesday because of a parts shortage.

College Head Honored At His Inauguration

WAVERLY, Iowa (AP)—Educators from nearly 200 colleges and universities joined students and townspeople Wednesday in honoring the Rev. Dr. John W. Bachman at his inauguration as president of Wartburg College.

Dr. Bachman, 48, was elected head of the Lutheran school last May and assumed his duties Sept. 1. At the time of his appointment he was director of the Center for Communications and the Arts at Union Theological Seminary, New York City.

Dr. Bachman, a Lutheran minister, was born at Youngstown, Ohio, and began his career as a college educator and administrator in his native state about 20 years ago. As Wartburg president he succeeded Dr. C. H. Becker, who resigned because of health reasons.

Lights On Longest Bridge Are Tested

NEW YORK (AP) — The harbor lights of New York City have been augmented, if only briefly, by the 752 new lights on the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge, longest suspension span in the world.

The occasion was a test at twilight Wednesday of the lights on the bridge between Brooklyn and Staten Island which opens a week from Saturday.

"This is the biggest moment of my life," said Harry Sverdlove, president of the electrical company that installed the lights. He said one man at a $100,000 console will control the bridge's vast electrical system.

Miss Schlosser Becomes Bride Of Floyd Marquart

A panel of Chantilly lace from the neckline to the hemline adorned the gown of Miss Lois Schlosser when she became the bride of Floyd E. Marquart last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Church of the Nazarene at Elkhart, Ind.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Schlosser of Jennings Ave., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Leslie Marquart of Monroeville, Ind.

The Rev. Schlosser, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, was assisted in performing the double-ring ceremony by the Rev. M. L. McCaskell, pastor of the Elkhart church.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and gold and brown mums along with candelabra formed the altar background. James Stemen was soloist and Mrs. Greg Moore organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her full-length gown of satin was fashioned with a fitted bodice which featured a medallion neckline and long, pointed sleeves. A pleated carriage gave fullness to the skirt and full - length chapel train.

She wore the pearl crown her sister, Mrs. Roger Young, had worn at her wedding, along with the fingertip veil of silk French illusion made by their mother. Her cascade of white carnations was highlighted in the center by yellow tearoses.

Miss Esther Schlosser, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Baker, Mrs. Chris Farrell and Mrs. Selden Marquart. They wore full-length gowns of gold color Schiffli embroidered taffeta designed with scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves.

The controlled skirts were accented with flat bows and long streamers in the back. They wore matching pillbox hats and circular veils and carried bouquets of gold and bronze mums tied with gold velvet streamers.

Duane Dager served as best man. Ushers were Selden Marquart, Jerry Essenberg and Irwin Stender.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of peacock blue brocade with matching hat and beige accessories and the bridegroom's mother, a turquoise crepe dress with white accessories. Corsages of white carnations and yellow tea roses completed their attire.

MRS. F. E. MARQUART
Bride Of Indiana Nuptials.

A reception for 200 followed at the Four Arts Club where a fall theme highlighted decorations. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. The mother of the bridegroom made the cake. An arrangement of yellow and bronze mums completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Charles Wise, Miss Sandra Eitel and Miss Arden Forester.

Attending from here in addition to the bride's family, were Mr. and Mrs. Delmas Sanford and children, Jo Dell and Kevin, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Davis. Other guests were from Angola, Fort Wayne, Bourbonnais, Ill., and Charlottsville, Va.

For her Eastern honeymoon, the bride wore a knit suit of cranberry red and her bridal corsage.

The bride was graduated from Elkhart High School and Olivet Nazarene College at Kankakee, Ill. She is an English teacher at the New Haven (Ill.) Junior High School.

Her husband is a graduate of Monroeville High School and the Indiana College of Mortuary Science, where he was affiliated with Kappa Chapter of Pi Sigma Eta, national fraternity of mortuary science. He is in business with his father in the Marquart Funeral Home of Monroeville.

The newlyweds will reside in Monroeville.

Wellsville Society

Miss Ruth Urie LE 2-2288

Mrs. Fred Manning, Mrs. Clifton Huff and Mrs. Clayton Hobbs won prizes in bridge when the Centennial Club met Tuesday night with Mrs. Manning of Georgia Ave.

Two tables were in play. Mrs. Manning and Mrs. Herbert Robinson served lunch.

The next meeting will be Dec. 8 with Mrs. George Scott of State Route 2. A Christmas gift exchange will be held.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Mrs. Martha Manypenny, Mrs. Lynda Reynolds and Mrs. Jean Manley won prizes in 500 at a meeting of the Jolly Nine Club Tuesday night with Mrs. Esther Hayes of 5th St.

Two tables were in play. Mrs. Manley received travel.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Carolyn Hutton.

Names were drawn for a Christmas gift exchange to be held at the next meeting Dec. 5 with Mrs. Manley of Phoenix Ave.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

A $25 donation was made to the volunteer fire department towards the purchase of a new truck when the auxiliary of VFW Post 6450 met Tuesday night at the post home.

The auxiliary also donated $5 to the Veterans Hospital at Clarksburg for a Christmas party.

Mrs. Ilenee Reed won a prize in games. The next meeting will be Nov. 24. Mrs. Ruth McElfresh of Pughtown, district president, will be a guest.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Mrs. Carol Mooney was in charge of the lesson topic, "Reading With Greater Understanding," at a meeting of the Pleasant View Homemakers Club Tuesday night with Thomas Andrews of Chester State Route 1. Mrs. Mooney also conducted the devotions.

Final plans were made for the Christmas Ideas tea being held today and Friday in New Cumberland.

The constitution and bylaws were completed during business.

Prizes at games went to Lester Six and Mrs. Lloyd Clark.

Mrs. Denzil Walker received a birthday gift from her secret pal.

Lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Walker.

A Christmas party with a grabbag exchange will be held Dec. 18 with Mrs. Walker of the Washington School Rd.

"Money, a Tool for Fulfillment" was the theme of the lesson study led by Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry when the WSCS of the Highlandtown Methodist Church met Tuesday night. Mrs. Allan Rose was hostess at the manse in Salineville.

The meeting was opened by prayer by Mrs. Verla Culp, president, and Scripture was read by Mrs. Janet Taggart. The hymn, "What a Friend We Have In Jesus," was sung. The group increased its pledge to missions and will sell dishcloths to raise funds. Mrs. Lena Jarvis gave the closing prayer.

The hostess and Mrs. Culp served lunch to 13. A Christmas gift exchange will be held at the meeting Dec. 15 with Mrs. Doris Bettis of Highlandtown.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Movies provided the program for the meeting of the Sogath Club Monday night in the social rooms of the First Methodist Church.

They included Christmas customs in other countries, provided by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., and Wellsville's centennial and Christmas with marionettes. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller were in charge of the program.

For devotions, Mr. and Mrs. William Bush used Ps. 100, the Psalm of thanks, and an essay, "Go Seeker, if You Will Throughout the World" (Wolfe).

Some 26 attended the dinner meeting open to couples of the church and their families. A Christmas program will be presented at the meeting Dec. 7 in the church. The kitchen committee will consist of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lloyd and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crook.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Mrs. Grace Smith was retained as president of the Friendship Class of the Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Church at

Miss Schlosser Becomes Bride Of Floyd Marquart

A panel of Chantilly lace from the neckline to the hemline adorned the gown of Miss Lois Schlosser when she became the bride of Floyd E. Marquart last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Church of the Nazarene at Elkhart, Ind.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Schlosser of Jennings Ave., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Leslie Marquart of Monroeville, Ind.

The Rev. Schlosser, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, was assisted in performing the double-ring ceremony by the Rev. M. L. McCaskell, pastor of the Elkhart church.

Arrangements of white gladiolus and gold and brown mums along with candelabra formed the altar background. James Stemen was soloist and Mrs. Greg Moore organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her full-length gown of satin was fashioned with a fitted bodice which featured a medallion neckline and long, pointed sleeves. A pleated carriage gave fullness to the skirt and full - length chapel train.

She wore the pearl crown her sister, Mrs. Roger Young, had worn at her wedding, along with the fingertip veil of silk French illusion made by their mother. Her cascade of white carnations was highlighted in the center by yellow tearoses.

Miss Esther Schlosser, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Baker, Mrs. Chris Farrell and Mrs. Selden Marquart. They wore full-length gowns of gold color Schiffli embroidered taffeta designed with scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves.

The controlled skirts were accented with flat bows and long streamers in the back. They wore matching pillbox hats and circular veils and carried bouquets of gold and bronze mums tied with gold velvet streamers.

Duane Dager served as best man. Ushers were Selden Marquart, Jerry Essenberg and Irwin Stender.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of peacock blue brocade with matching hat and beige accessories and the bridegroom's mother, a turquoise crepe dress with white accessories. Corsages of white carnations and yellow tea roses completed their attire.

MRS. F. E. MARQUART
Bride Of Indiana Nuptials.

A reception for 200 followed at the Four Arts Club where a fall theme highlighted decorations. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. The mother of the bridegroom made the cake. An arrangement of yellow and bronze mums completed the setting.

Aides were Mrs. Charles Wise, Miss Sandra Eitel and Miss Arden Forester.

Attending from here in addition to the bride's family, were Mr. and Mrs. Delmas Sanford and children, Jo Dell and Kevin, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Davis. Other guests were from Angola, Fort Wayne, Bourbonnais, Ill., and Charlottsville, Va.

For her Eastern honeymoon, the bride wore a knit suit of cranberry red and her bridal corsage.

The bride was graduated from Elkhart High School and Olivet Nazarene College at Kankakee, Ill. She is an English teacher at the New Haven (Ill.) Junior High School.

Her husband is a graduate of Monroeville High School and the Indiana College of Mortuary Science, where he was affiliated with Kappa Chapter of Pi Sigma Eta, national fraternity of mortuary science. He is in business with his father in the Marquart Funeral Home of Monroeville.

The newlyweds will reside in Monroeville.

MRS. J. A. CAHOON JR.
Chester District Girl Weds.

Miss Bosworth, J. A. Cahoon Jr. Exchange Vows

Miss Carolyn E. Bosworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bosworth of Chester R. D. 1, became the bride of Joseph A. Cahoon Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Cahoon of Siasconset, Mass., last Saturday noon in the vestry of the Congregational Church of Siasconset.

The Rev. Frederick Bennett, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony. The bride was attired in a white ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Eldridge, formerly of Chester, were the attendants. Mrs. Eldridge, who was Miss Myrtle Bennett, wore blue.

A reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride was graduated from Chester High School in 1956 and was employed at the Peoples Drugstore.

Her husband is a truck driver.

Miss Shirley J. Simpson, Jeffrey Huddlestun Wed

Wearing a ballerina - length gown of white Chantilly lace, Miss Shirley Jean Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Simpson of Lawrenceville, Chester, became the bride of Airman 3C Jeffrey C. Huddlestun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Huddlestun of Chester Ave., last Friday evening at 7 o'clock in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, minister, officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar background of palms and seven - branch candelabra. Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman, church organist, presented a half - hour recital of wedding music. Mrs. Betty Nichols sang "O Perfect Love" and "Oh Savior."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice which featured a scoop neckline and long, tapered sleeves. A queen's crown of pearls held her illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. All the familiar traditions were observed.

Miss Mary Margaret Woods was maid of honor and wore a dress of medium blue silk with matching Dior bow headpiece and veil. She carried a bouquet of carnations, tinted blue and pink rosebuds.

Miss Janice Huddlestun and Miss Karen Huddlestun, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids and wore identical silk dresses, yellow for Janice and orchid for Karen. They wore matching headpieces and veils and carried bouquets of yellow rosebuds and carnations, tinted yellow.

Debbie Simpson, sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pink dress with matching headband and veil. She carried a basket of flowers. Terry Simpson and Danny Huddlestun, brothers of the principals, were ringbearers.

Joseph Anthony was best man. Ushers were Robert Simpson, the bride's brother, and William Sellers, her uncle.

The mother of the bride wore a blue knit suit with black accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose a blue lace dress with matching accessories. White carnation corsages completed their costumes.

A reception for 60 followed in the social rooms with guests registered from Silver Springs, Md., Wellsville, Chester and Newell.

The buffet table was centered with a three - tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Arrangements of white and pink carnations completed the setting.

For her Eastern honeymoon trip, the bride wore a pink mohair suit with black accessories and her bridal corsage.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Oak Glen High School and was employed at the Peoples Drugstore.

Her husgand was graduated in 1964 from East Liverpool High School.

The newlyweds left today for Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., where she is stationed.

Industry Guild And Ohioville Homemakers Have Events

Fall and Christmas centerpieces were demonstrated by Mrs. Joseph Hartman of Midland at a meeting of the St. Christine Guild Monday night in the church hall in Industry. Mrs. John Mehalik, president, presided for business.

Mrs. Joseph Benek announced that the annual Christmas meeting will be held Dec. 14 with a gift exchange and carol singing featured, and Mrs. Mark Haram, foreign relief chairman, requested all members to bring new baby clothes for missions.

Plans for the parish Christmas coverdish dinner social Dec. 20 were announced by the chairman, Mrs. Ned Newtz. Santa Claus will be present to distribute treats to the children.

A public card party will be sponsored by the unit Jan. 13. Miss Marie Vohar will collect trading stamps for this event. A report on the recent harvest dinner sponsored by the parish was given by Mrs. Mehalik. Nov. 15 is Holy Communion Sunday for guild members. Mrs. Frank Begg won a prize.

Mrs. Edwin Fox, hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Stan Darbut, Mrs. Joseph Druzak and Mrs. Harper Gullyes. The Executive Board will meet in the church hall Dec. 1.

Dried flower arrangements and teasel trees were made at a meeting of the Ohioville Homemakers' Club Tuesday morning in the fire hall in Ohioville.

A variety of Christmas items, made by members, and arrangements of pine and objects from the woods were displayed on the center table.

Mrs. Vern Watson instructed the group in flower arranging and Mrs. Ruth Markle in using teasel.

Mrs. Ralph Horm, president, conducted brief business and announced that the unit will not meet in December but will attend a coverdish dinner Christmas party Dec. 8 at the Brighton Township Grange Hall, along with members of the Bridgewater and Brighton Township Homemakers' Clubs. The Ohioville group will meet at the firehall at 10 a. m. Mrs. Horm, Mrs. Earl Sherman and Mrs. Paul Dawson of Ohioville will be in charge of the games.

It was announced that a chartered bus will leave the Beaver County Courthouse at 10 a. m. Nov. 20 for the Christmas Ideas Tea in Butler. Any interested person may contact Mrs. Horm at MIssion 3-7114 before Friday.

Sack lunches were refreshments and beverages were furnished by the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McGaffick entertained 10 couples in their home in Ohioville Tuesday night.

Crepe paper decorations were orange and black. Mrs. Keith Hammond led the group in games. Prizes were awarded.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Film Screened For Wellsville Group's Affair

A thank-offering film, "Investment In Tomorrow," highlighted the meeting of the Women's Association of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church of Wellsville Tuesday night in the social rooms.

It stressed the ministry of outreach to youth through youth development and vocational training project, leadership development and student loan fund.

Mrs. Betsy Erwin, president, screened the film and Mrs. Marian Stanway was the narrator. The thank-offering was dedicated by Mrs. Betty Bright, newly-elected president, and Mrs. Erwin played the offertory and opened the meeting with prayer.

World Service report was given by Mrs. Sylvia Ferguson and fellowship report by Mrs. Mary Plate. Mrs. Carolyn Vogel, secretary, and Mrs. Ruth Olmstead, treasurer, gave their reports. Some highlights of the Presbyterial session at East Liverpool were given by Mrs. Erwin. "Abundance" was the theme of the worship period led by Mrs. Edna McIntosh, who offered prayer for missions. "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was sung.

Mrs. Evelyn Fraser gave thanks and a buffet lunch was served 32. The table decorations featured a Thanksgiving motif. The committee was comprised of Mrs. Florence House, Mrs. Margaret Blackwood, Mrs. Nellie Blackwood, Mrs. Elizabeth McNicol and Mrs. John Bryer. Canned goods and non-perishable foods were brought for the Harvest-Home Festival of the Rescue Mission in East Liverpool and for the needy. Additional contributions may be brought to the church until a few days before Thanksgiving.

Two of his children, Clara Pierce, 4, and Dorothy E. Pierce, 7, were reported "fair" at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh. Listed in "critical" condition when admitted yesterday, they were described as "much improved" today.

2 More Seek Recounts Of Grant Votes

Two more Grant District candidates for constable have asked for recounts of returns from nine precincts in the close race for two posts.

The recounts were asked by Harold Davis, Chester police chief, and J. Carl Durham of Newell, both Republican incumbents.

They joined Glen H. Logston, Chester Democrat, who filed for a recount Monday after the official canvass showed he lost to Durham by one vote. Davis led the field, which also included Charles Glendenning.

The official canvass showed Davis with 2,077 votes; Durham, 1,988; Logston, 1,987, and Glendenning, 1,797.

The unofficial returns indicated Logston had defeated Durham by one vote, but in the official canvass Durham gained four votes and Logston's total was increased by only two.

The date for the recount will be set after county commissioners and Mrs. Mary Stewart, county clerk, and staff finish the official canvass.

The cnavass of the remaining 20 precincts will resume at 7 tonight in the New Cumberland Courthouse. The official tabulation of returns from Precincts 11-19 was completed Tuesday night. The Courthouse was closed yesterday because of Veterans Day.

102 At Veterans Day Program Of Wellsville Post

A total of 102 attended the annual Veterans Day banquet of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 Wednesday night at the post home.

Vernon E. (Buck) Allen of Cleveland, state commander, was guest speaker.

Post 70 presented him a certificate showing the post's membership quota for 1965 has been met. Allen presented the post a membership plaque.

Guests included Mayor William Daugherty, seven gold star mothers and fathers, Jerry Knight of Massillon, 10th District commander; Walter McCoy of Columbiana, district vice commander; Floyd Swearingen of Massillon, district adjutant; James Poynter of East Liverpool, 3rd Division commander, and Mrs. Sarah Rose of East Liverpool, Columbiana County auxiliary president.

All post officers were present. The Rev. Arden Beck of the First Methodist Church gave the invocation and the Rev. Robert Andrews of the First Christian Church gave the benediction.

Sam Maylone, commander, was toastmaster. The meal was prepared and served by the auxiliary.

required to recount the average precinct. However, because of an extremely heavy vote cast in some Beaver Local precincts, the recount may require a little longer than average, the board felt.

A committee of five Beaver Local electors filed a petition with the board Monday afternoon, requesting the new tabulation of returns from all except the Glenmoor Precinct of St. Clair Township and the Southwest Precinct of Elkrun Township, which cast only a handful of votes on the issue.

The official canvass of returns completed Saturday showed 1,808 in favor of the new levy and 1,858 against.

In the 15 precincts to be recounted, there were 1,799 votes in favor of the levy and 1,849 against.

The opposition vote dropped by two and the favorable vote stayed unchanged in the first precinct which was recounted—Elkton of Elkrun Township.

The new tabulation showed 104 in favor of the levy, but 132 against.

In a retabulation of the second precinct, Signal, the negative lost one and the affirmative was unchanged. The original count showed 110 in favor of the issue and 114 against. The new count gave 110 in favor and 113 against. In the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township, there was no change. The court reminded 46 in favor and 70 against.

In the Rock Camp Precinct, the negative vote dropped two and the affirmative was unchanged. The new count showed 141 in favor and 154 against. In the West Point Precinct, the negative dropped two and the affirmative was unchanged. The new tabulation showed 169 in favor and 136 against.

The count stood unchanged in the Clarkson Precinct. It was 60 in favor and 72 against. The Negley Precinct also showed no change. It was 26 in favor and 31 against.

In the Pancake Precinct, the negative dropped two and the affirmative went up two. The new count showed 63 in favor and 88 opposed. In the Rogers Precinct, the negative dropped two and the affirmative gained one. The recount showed 96 in favor and 187 against.

The recount got under way at 9:20. The new tabulation of the first precinct was completed at 9:40.

All four members of the board were on hand — Carl L. Stacey and Don R. Gosney, both of Columbiana, Atty. James L. McSweeney of Wellsville and Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon — along with Frank R. O'Hanlon of East Liverpool, the clerk.

The electors' committee which petitioned for the recount was represented by Mrs. Ruth Green, chairman. Also present was Roy Cashdollar, executive head of the school district.

Fairfield-Waterford To File For Recount

A committee of voters in the Fairfield - Waterford School District today notified the Columbiana County Board of Elections it will file a formal petition for a recount of one precinct's returns in the Nov. 3 vote on a $350,000 bond issue.

The issue for school improvements was apparently defeated 739 to 654, the returns showed. Frank R. O'Hanlon, board clerk, said the recount will probably be held Saturday morning.

The petition is slated to ask a tabulation of the for and against vote on the issue at the West Precinct of Fairfield.

Chester Firemen Get New Pumper Truck

A new 1,000-gallon pumper was delivered to Chester firemen Wednesday night by Sutphen Associates of Columbus.

The Pirsch truck, costing $21,700, is similar to the department's 1959 truck.

Council has authorized $5,000 to match the contribution of volunteer firemen, who will seek the remainder of the funds from industries, businesses and individuals.

The Columbus firm allowed $2,000 as trade - in on the 1942 model truck.

The total area of the 50 states of the United States is 3,615,211 square miles, of which 3,548,974 square miles is land and 66,237 is water.

B'nai B'rith Installation To Be Sunday

The annual installation of officers of Gustav Bendheim Lodge of B'nai B'rith will follow a dinner Sunday at Temple Beth Shalom.

The officers include Dr. A. S. Fisher, president; Judge Louis Tobin and Mike Turk, vice presidents; Myron Weis, secretary; Harry Gordon, treasurer, and Robert Schlang, chaplain.

The installing officer will be William Nathan, national commissioner on Israel and a past president of his lodge and the Western Pennsylvania Council.

Nathan also is a delegate to the Supreme Lodge convention next May in Israel.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. by women of the Beth Shalom Sisterhood.

B'nai B'rith is the oldest and largest Jewish service organization in the world, and the local lodge is in its 48th year.

Things Happen In 10s To Girl

DALLAS (AP)—Things happen in tens for dark-haired Lorra Rose of Cleveland, Ohio.

Her contestant number in the Cleveland contest was 10, she was listed 10th in the National Miss Teen-age America Pageant, and she appeared 10th before the talent judges.

And on Nov. 10, her chaperone, Mrs. Eileen Kaufman, was called home because her daughter broke a leg. The 52 teen-age contestants autographed a stuffed dog to send to the child.

Lorra's mother, meanwhile, who is nearly blind, was to arrive today to be with her daughter for the last two days of the pageant.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This may not happen to me again in a million years—and if it does, that's soon enough. But I need to know what to do, just in case.

My boy friend Robbie and I have had 11 dates, not counting the times he has come over just to talk. Last night was the night I have been dreaming about for six months. He kissed me good night. It turned out to be more like a nightmare than a dream.

Robbie wears braces and so do I. Somehow our braces got hooked together and it was the most embarrassing thing that has ever happened to me in my whole life.

We were hooked for only a few seconds, but it seemed like an eternity before I was able to jiggle my head and disconnect us. He was embarrassed, too, but he didn't say anything.

I'm afraid Robbie may never want to kiss me again. Shall I say something? What can I do to make sure this doesn't happen any more?—TOMATO FACE.

-:-

Dear Tomato: Say nothing to Robbie but ask your dentist to check and make sure there are no loose or hookable wires on your braces.

P.S.: It just might be that you put too much heart and soul into that good night kiss. Cool it, Kiddo.

How AA Works

Dear Ann: Do you have a piece of Alcoholics Anonymous or what? You mention this organization so often I wonder why.

Will you tell me a little about AA? Who can join? How? Where does the money go and so on? Thank you.—INTERESTED PARTY.

Dear Interested: Nobody has a piece of Alcoholics Anonymous but a great many people swear by it because AA has provided the answer when all else failed.

The purpose of AA is to help everybody and anybody who has a drinking problem. It has no ties with any religious group, takes no stand on public issues and neither attacks nor defends the liquor industry.

AA is an informal fellowship of men and women who are determined to live without liquor (because they must) and to help others who are also fighting the battle of the bottle.

AA has approximately 250,000 members in about 80 countries. To join AA you sign nothing, give nothing and promise nothing. The only requirement is a genuine desire to quit drinking.

People who are sensitive about being seen at meetings should remember that their affiliation with AA gives them infinitely more dignity than their public performances when they were drunk.

To "join" simply look in the phone book under Alcoholics Anonymous and find out when and where the next meeting will be held—and go.

Confidentially

DID WE DO THE WRONG THING? I'm afraid you did. A new-born baby is a human being and you should have attended the funeral. Make a donation to a worthy charity in the child's name. The parents will be notified of the contribution and be pleased that you remembered their infant in this way.

TO FLAT POCKETS: So she sends you? It sounds as if she's sending you to the poorhouse. Stop handing your pay check over to this addle-brained child. You questionably will do better, since you couldn't do worse.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Midland Senior Receives DAR Citizen's Award

Miss Carol Sue Matteo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Matteo of Carnegie Dr., Midland, and a senior at Midland High School, has been awarded the Good Citizen's award by the Beaver County Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She will compete with other senior girls of the county in the state DAR contest in December.

Miss Matteo is a member of the Latin Club, the Knitting Club, National Honor Society and the high school band.

She is studying piano under the instruction of Mrs. E. B. Neely and has been coach of cheerleaders squad of the Red and White Hot Stove League football team for two years. She is a member of Senior Girl Scout Troop 32 and a senior aide to Brownie Troop 60. She is also the recipient of the Marian Award and the St. Joan of Arc Award in Girl Scouting and the American Legion award. She is a member of the Presentation Catholic Church.

Miss Matteo has been accepted at Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Pittsburgh and will begin her studies next September.

Foundation To Aid Negro Students

Many of my readers know about the National Merit Scholarships available to talented high school students throughout the nation.

Dr. Garry Myers

Since 1955 these scholarships have been awarded to 9,100 students by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Of this total number, 4,000 were financed out of the original Ford Foundation Grant and 5,100 were provided by sponsoring foundations, business corporations, colleges, unions, professional associations, trusts and individuals.

A total of around 5,000 Merit Scholars will be enrolled in more than 400 colleges and universities during the academic year 1964-65. Competition for these National Merit Scholarships has been offered to all students regardless of race or color, and still is, on the basis of school achievement plus achievement of certain tests.

NOW a new opportunity is available to talented Negro students. Last July the President of Ford Foundation, Henry T. Heald, announced a grant of $7 million to the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for scholarships for outstanding Negro high school students. It is a five-year grant that will finance 200 college scholarship awards a year and will meet the administrative cost of conducting the nation-wide competition.

Said President Heald: "This new program seeks to draw attention to a large group of talented Negro young people in every part of the country.

"It seeks also to motivate Negro boys and girls at lower grade-school levels to prepare for college, and to encourage secondary schools to strengthen their academic programs and raise the educational goals of their Negro students."

This National Achievement Scholarship Program will identify Negro high school students whose record of achievement has revealed their potential for future accomplishments. The winning scholar will select the accredited college of his choice and will choose his field of study. However, his curriculum must lead to one of the usual baccalaureate degrees.

THE amount of each National Achievement Scholarship will be based on the student's financial needs. It will range from a minimum of $250 a year or $1000 for the four years of college, to a maximum of $1500 a year, or $6000 for the four years.

Students eligible for entering the contest will be nominated next October by the school they attend. The nominations will give information about the student's rank in class, grades and test scores, achievements outside the classroom, and the like.

My bulletins, "Helping Your Child Succeed at School" and "Tips for Students," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Ohio High Court Agrees To Rule On Tax Question

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court agreed today to rule on the question of whether a commuter must pay municipal income taxes simultaneously to the city where he works and the suburb where he lives.

The high court agreed to review lower court decisions holding that Jack Thompson must pay Cincinnati's one per cent income tax but not a similar tax to suburban Loveland where he lives. Cincinnati imposed its tax in 1962.

The Cincinnati suburb's 1963 income tax was repealed by voters last November subsequent to Thompson's suit.

Loveland, population about 6,000, appealed from an injunction against collection of its tax from Thompson, who works for Cincinnati Union Terminal Co., Cincinnati. He is one of an estimated 500 Loveland residents who hold jobs in Cincinnati.

Motorist Forfeits $32 On Speeding Charges

Frank Comito of Toronto, cited by the State Highway Patrol Nov. 4 on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road," forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond today in Municipal Court.

Ronald K. Simmons, 419 Harrison St., Newell, was fined $10 and costs on each of two charges — operating an auto without a muffler and driving without an operator's permit. He was cited Wednesday at 9:49 p. m. on the Freeway.

A hearing also is scheduled for Thomas L. Thompson of Toronto R. D. 1, cited Wednesday at 12:20 a. m. on a charge of speeding 65 in a 50-mile zone on the "super-road."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: A friend told me that you once printed a hint for removing the greasy, yellow line across men's shirt collars.

I must have missed that hint and she can't remember what you said to use.

Will you please print it again? My husband is ashamed of the way his shirt collars look . . . and so am I!

MARTHA G.

Ladies, this line is caused by body oils. Get rid of the oil . . . and the dirt will leave!

Go to your dime store and buy a box of CHALK (the kind kids use on blackboards) and literally draw A CHALK LINE over that yellow line on your blouses and your husband's collars and French cuffs. Draw it HARD. The chalk will absorb the body oils (far better to leave it overnight) . . . the dirt will leave.

Wash as usual . . . whether it be home done or sent to the laundry!

If the line has been there a long time, this may take more than one application.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I think of housecleaning and all that goes with it, I cannot help but remember reading about a woman who was charged with burning down her house. When the judge asked her why she had done it, she replied that she looked around her house . . . and decided that it would be a lot easier to burn it down than to clean it up!

Since she has always had my complete sympathy I even consider her almost a heroine, you may very well know that I'm not about to give you any hot tips on housekeeping.

READER.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: When I make my childrens' pajamas, I use the cuffs of worn out socks and sew them on the sleeves and the bottom of the pajama legs.

The children love their pajamas fixed this way because the legs of the pajamas don't scoot up when they go to bed.

Some of the boys' socks have such heavy ribbed cuffs that the cuffs easily outwear the material from which I make the pajamas.

MRS. BERENICE BEST.

DEAR HELOISE: If you mark a shortening can on the opposite side from the hinge with several pencil marks, it will save fumbling with the lid to open it at the right place!

M. STARR.

DEAR HELOISE: I helped my small son make garages from cardboard boxes by cutting doors in one side of each box.

He lined the boxes along one wall of his room, and when he wants to drive a different car or truck, he must drive the first one home to its garage before getting the second car.

If he has a car or truck out at bedtime, he must drive it home before he goes to bed.

This has worked at our house . . . so far.

Surely keeps his room clean and saves mother's energy.

OBSTACLE COURSE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a tip for housewives who hate to use thumb tacks to keep shelf paper in place:

Buy a roll of masking tape (very inexpensive), tear off strips of the tape about an inch long, roll around a pencil with the sticky side out then slide the tapes off the pencil and put them under the corners of shelf lining.

The tape will stay neat and flat and will pull right up when new paper is needed.

MRS. R. OLLER.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: When you clip coupons from your favorite grocery store out of the newspaper, slip them into a plain white envelope. Then write your shopping list on the envelope.

No more fumbling around for the coupons.

Church Project Open House Set

The LaCroft Church of the Nazarene will hold open house for the newly - remodeled parsonage on 7th Ave. Friday from 7 to 8 p. m. The public is invited.

The remodeling of the seven-room house included plastered walls, wall-to-wall carpeting, remodeling of the fireplace and ceramic tile in the bathroom and kitchen.

The project began three months ago under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. B. Edwin McDonald, and the Board of Trustees, C. R. Baker, Stanley Ward, Pearl King, Lloyd Densmore and Clarence Pelley.

A brief devotional program and refreshments will follow in the Fellowship Hall.

Boosters Delay Reseeding Work

Action on plans to reseed the Beaver Local High School football field was tabled at a meeting of the Boosters Club Tuesday night at the Public School.

Frank Copestick reported on plans for the project. Further information is to be obtained.

Mrs. Ruth Green was named corresponding secretary to replace Mrs. Mildred Emmerling, who resigned.

Discussion was held on serving a dinner for the Trades and Labor Council. The group authorized payment of balance due on football team insurance. Bills totaling $553 were paid.

Leslie Jones reported on plans for the Booster Club fair in June. Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin served lunch.

Mrs. Esther Goddard, noble grand, presided. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ann Burnip and Mrs. Ruth Carter. Mrs. Carter was in charge of hall decorations.

Plans were made for a kitchenware demonstration at the next meeting Nov. 24. Guests attended from Wellsville and East Liverpool.

Eighty - seven attended a farewell party held Tuesday night at the Church of Christ in honor of Gerald Finnie, minister, and wife.

Finnie, pastor since 1960, will leave next week for a new assignment at Westlake, Ohio.

The Ask Our Class was in charge of the event at which Mrs. Georgia Beckwith read a poem. Singing was led by Misses Sue and Jeanne Earl. Mrs. Finnie and her children sang selections.

Gifts were presented the honor guests. Bronze chrysanthemums centered the table.

Mrs. Olive Dorrance of W. Main St. was hostess to the O'er Four Club Tuesday night when prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Barbara Bettis, Mrs. Shirley Hart and Mrs. Faye Madison.

Mrs. Hart was a guest.

Letter Launches Career

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Small actions sometimes lead to great results in life.

A letter to Winston Churchill that cost 15 cents in postage started producer Jack Le Vien on his path to becoming one of the foremost film biographers of the day.

As a young Allied press officer in World War II, Jack had met Sir Winston during the prime minister's visit to the combat fronts.

In 1957, as editor of a movie news concern which he felt would soon go out of business, Le Vien decided it was time for a change of careers. He conceived the idea of a television series, a dramatic wartime narrative centered around Churchill.

"My friends all told me I was crazy," recalled Jack. "They said all the big studios would be way ahead of me, that Sir Winston wouldn't fool around with anyone as obscure in the field as I was.

"But I was stubborn. I didn't have enough money to fly to England and present my idea in person to Churchill, so I sat down and wrote him a one-page letter outlining it. I figured busy people won't read more than a page. The letter cost me 15 cents in postage."

Churchill replied courteously. After two years of discussion by mail, the former British prime minister met Jack during a visit here and they signed a contract.

"Sir, why did you choose me to become your film biographer?" Le Vien then asked. Churchill winked at him and said frankly:

"No one else ever bothered to ask me."

The series proved such a hit—it already has brought in double its million and a half production costs — that Le Vien followed it up with a two-hour color film that tells the whole adventurous life of Churchill.

The project was a four-year labor of love for Jack, who prowled through a million feet of film in old archives for some of his material, much of it never shown before.

As a result of some 40 meetings with Churchill, who will be 90 years old this month, Le Vien has fallen willing victim to the famous Churchillian charm.

"He never haggles about terms," Jack said.

"His humanness, his sweetness, his sentiment — these are the things that impress me most about Sir Winston.

"Without doubt he's the kindest — and biggest — human being I've ever met, and he has no fear whatsoever of showing his emotions.

"You know, he's been married more than 54 years, but he never sits down at the table without first toasting his wife."

As the result of his success with the Churchill ventures, Jack also is producing a film on the life of the Duke of Windsor which the duke will help narrate himself.

"The duke is very considerate, too," said Le Vien. "When you go swimming with him, he runs up and gets the towels for the whole party. And he used to be a king!"

What lessons has he learned from his experiences?

"Audacity pays," said Jack. "As Churchill himself once observed, 'Audacity is the keynote of life.'"

Bridge 12% Finished

HAMMONDSVILLE — The Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia reported today the new bridge on Route 213 here is about 12 per cent complete. The length of the project is a tenth of a mile.

Go to your dime store and buy a box of CHALK (the kind kids use on blackboards) and literally draw A CHALK LINE over that yellow line on your blouses and your husband's collars and French cuffs. Draw it HARD. The chalk will absorb the body oils (far better to leave it overnight) . . . the dirt will leave.

Wash as usual . . . whether it be home done or sent to the laundry!

If the line has been there a long time, this may take more than one application.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I think of housecleaning and all that goes with it, I cannot help but remember reading about a woman who was charged with burning down her house. When the judge asked her why she had done it, she replied that she looked around her house . . . and decided that it would be a lot easier to burn it down than to clean it up!

Since she has always had my complete sympathy I even consider her almost a heroine, you may very well know that I'm not about to give you any hot tips on housekeeping.

READER.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: When I make my childrens' pajamas, I use the cuffs of worn out socks and sew them on the sleeves and the bottom of the pajama legs.

The children love their pajamas fixed this way because the legs of the pajamas don't scoot up when they go to bed.

Some of the boys' socks have such heavy ribbed cuffs that the cuffs easily outwear the material from which I make the pajamas.

MRS. BERENICE BEST.

DEAR HELOISE: If you mark a shortening can on the opposite side from the hinge with several pencil marks, it will save fumbling with the lid to open it at the right place!

M. STARR.

DEAR HELOISE: I helped my small son make garages from cardboard boxes by cutting doors in one side of each box.

He lined the boxes along one wall of his room, and when he wants to drive a different car or truck, he must drive the first one home to its garage before getting the second car.

If he has a car or truck out at bedtime, he must drive it home before he goes to bed.

This has worked at our house . . . so far.

Surely keeps his room clean and saves mother's energy.

OBSTACLE COURSE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a tip for housewives who hate to use thumb tacks to keep shelf paper in place:

Buy a roll of masking tape (very inexpensive), tear off strips of the tape about an inch long, roll around a pencil with the sticky side out then slide the tapes off the pencil and put them under the corners of shelf lining.

The tape will stay neat and flat and will pull right up when new paper is needed.

MRS. R. OLLER.

-:-

DEEAR HELOISE: When you clip coupons from your favorite grocery store out of the newspaper, slip them into a plain white envelope. Then write your shopping list on the envelope.

No more fumbling around for the coupons.

OLIVE GAGNON.

Letter Launches Career

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Small actions sometimes lead to great results in life.

A letter to Winston Churchill that cost 15 cents in postage started producer Jack Le Vien on his path to becoming one of the foremost film biographers of the day.

As a young Allied press officer in World War II, Jack had met Sir Winston during the prime minister's visit to the combat fronts.

In 1957, as editor of a movie news concern which he felt would soon go out of business, Le Vien decided it was time for a change of careers. He conceived the idea of a television series, a dramatic wartime narrative centered around Churchill.

"My friends all told me I was crazy," recalled Jack. "They said all the big studios would be way ahead of me, that Sir Winston wouldn't fool around with anyone as obscure in the field as I was.

"But I was stubborn. I didn't have enough money to fly to England and present my idea in person to Churchill, so I sat down and wrote him a one-page letter outlining it. I figured busy people won't read more than a page. The letter cost me 15 cents in postage."

Churchill replied courteously. After two years of discussion by mail, the former British prime minister met Jack during a visit here and they signed a contract.

"Sir, why did you choose me to become your film biographer?" Le Vien then asked. Churchill winked at him and said frankly:

"No one else ever bothered to ask me."

The series proved such a hit—it already has brought in double its million and a half production costs — that Le Vien followed it up with a two-hour color film that tells the whole adventurous life of Churchill.

The project was a four-year labor of love for Jack, who prowled through a million feet of film in old archives for some of his material, much of it never shown before.

As a result of some 40 meetings with Churchill, who will be 90 years old this month, Le Vien has fallen willing victim to the famous Churchillian charm.

"He never haggles about terms," Jack said.

"His humanness, his sweetness, his sentiment — these are the things that impress me most about Sir Winston.

"Without doubt he's the kindest — and biggest — human being I've ever met, and he has no fear whatsoever of showing his emotions.

"You know, he's been married more than 54 years, but he never sits down at the table without first toasting his wife."

As the result of his success with the Churchill ventures, Jack also is producing a film on the life of the Duke of Windsor which the duke will help narrate himself.

"The duke is very considerate, too," said Le Vien. "When you go swimming with him, he runs up and gets the towels for the whole party. And he used to be a king!"

What lessons has he learned from his experiences?

"Audacity pays," said Jack. "As Churchill himself once observed, 'Audacity is the keynote of life.' "

Bridge 12% Finished

HAMMONDSVILLE — The Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia reported today the new bridge on Route 213 here is about 12 per cent complete. The length of the project is a tenth of a mile.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

High-Class High Society

Broadway writer-director Abe Burrows and author Cleveland Armory, a chronicler of high society's ups and downs, have teamed up to produce a new half - hour weekly comedy series which will make its debut on the ABC network next fall.

Richard Doan

The show is entitled "My Man, St. John" (pronounced, as the British do, sin-jin) and one of its two stars will be actor Walter Matthau.

-:-

AS DESCRIBED by ABC program vice president Edgar Scherick, the show will depict Matthau as a millionaire oilman named O. K. Crackersby, who hires "an impoverished representative of the last resorts of Newport society" as a tutor-companion for his children.

"Cleveland Amory developed the idea for the series," Scherick disclosed. "He took it to Burrows and Burrows got excited about it.

"Burrows is writing the pilot show. There will be lots of location shooting in places like Newport and Palm Beach. We'll probably film the pilot in Palm Beach early next month."

-:-

BURROWS, who co-authored and directed the long-running Pulitzer Prize-winning Broadway comedy, "How To Succeed Without Really Trying," and directed the more recent stage hit "What Makes Sammy Run," has been known to TV in recent times largely as an occasional program guest.

His last major involvement in the medium was a short-lived variety series, "The Big Party," which he produced for CBS in 1959.

Amory, like Burrows, is familiar to TV viewers as an occasional program guest. Until last December, he was for several years one of the "Today" show's irregularly scheduled guest critics. His writings include the book, "Who Killed Society?"

Walter Matthau has been an increasingly busy supporting actor, in movies (such as "Charade") as well as TV dramas.

-:-

JACK WEBB, the one-time "Dragnet" star, is going to produce a TV series for CBS in which Polly Bergen will portray "a female James Bond."

The TV dramas will be based on Patricia McGerr's Selena Mead stories which have appeared in a newspaper Sunday supplement and will come out in book form next month.

The TV version will be a "sophisticated adventure" series, CBS said, with Miss Bergen playing a role which has been described as the "most glamorous secret agent since Mata Hari."

Miss Bergen is a singer-turned actress who has been a panelist on CBS' "To Tell the Truth." She left that series in 1961, however, to move with her agent-husband, Freddie Fields, to Hollywood to devote herself largely to movie roles.

She has appeared in many of them, her latest being "Kisses for My President," a not-too-well-received farce issued this fall in which she plays a woman president of the U. S.

One of Miss Bergen's best-rememberd performances was as the star of "The Helen Morgan Story" on CBS "Playhouse 90" in 1957.

-:-

AN "ENTERTAINMENT documentary" on the Beatles which CBS has scheduled for Friday night as a "special feature" of its "The Entertainers" series had better not be entertaining.

Not consciously, anyway.

One of CBS' competitors, the ABC Network, has put CBS "on notice" that ABC has an agreement with Nems Enterprises, Ltd., agents for the Beatles, under which ABC will telecast a filmed variety show starring the Beatles on Sunday, and that this agreement provides that a certain "documentary special presentation" produced special Maysles Brothers "shall not include any entertainment performances by the Beatles."

It is this one-hour film of the British rock 'n' rollers' tour of the U. S. last winter which CBS has booked for Friday at 8:30.

Also "well publicized" is the fact that NBC has scheduled the first of five Danny Thomas comedy specials for the same night, same hour.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Stop Kidding, Start Slimming

A homemaker, half in fun and all in earnest, gives her weight problem the light touch. She views it this way: Instead of being 60 pounds overweight, she is at least six inches too short!

Ida Jean Kain

"HELP! My scales must be wrong. I couldn't possibly weigh 179 pounds. I'm only 5'1" tall.

"I really eat like a bird. Even my husband and teenage sons say they don't see how I can be fat when I only eat half as much as they do.

"IT COULDN'T be the dip and chip I eat in the afternoon. . . after all, I eat only a small lunch. And yesterday was my sister's birthday party. I had to taste the cake, didn't I? I made it, and had to see if it was good. I drank my coffee black.

"That small dish of ice cream with chocolate sauce I ate last night couldn't have counted much. My husband asked me to make that new recipe for chocolate syrup that a friend gave me.

"I just did the exercises for fat knees. I have fat everywhere. Well, maybe I should count calories. I will be 44 on Sunday. . .I admit to 39.

"I read your column hopefully. . .maybe your encouraging words are finally sinking in. Thanks for listening. May I please write to you again?"

Well, bless your heart. What a joy you must be to live with. Write often!

How about turning that kidding into a slimming game? For the record, keep a diet-diary. Write down what you eat and the calorie score. But to acquire insight, also record your mood —with the light touch. Perhaps your friends are too fattening! Let your delightful sense of humor add zest to this adventure.

If your heart's desire is to be shapely weight, you'll find ways to achieve your goal. Let your first goal be to wear size 18½ short. With a loss of 15 to 20 pounds, you can wear a size smaller.

—:—

SHIFT to a high protein, low carbohydrate diet and you may lose five pounds the very first week and two pounds a week thereafter. Stretch-bends will be wonderfully rewarding. You'll feel and be slimmer in the middle.

Since you love to cook, turn your hand to slimming cookery. You could experiment with herbs. Friends and family trying to detect the source of that subtle flavor won't miss the butter sauce.

For a birthday cake, how about a delicious fruit-flavored strawberry or raspberry angel cake?

Come on. . . you've got such a lot of living to do!

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card request cannot be answered.

Coleman Rips Rhodes Over Bond Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman has lashed out against a proposal by Gov. James A. Rhodes calling for a new $275 million bond issue.

The governor's proposal was presented to the special session of the legislature Tuesday. The money from the issue would go for capital improvements.

"We've got to stop mortgaging our future," Coleman said Wednesday.

Rhodes and his aides say the issue could be financed without any new taxes, retiring the bonds from revenues within the present tax structure.

But Coleman rejected the "no new taxes" theory saying "if this thing passes this would mean more than a billion dollars in new taxes that this administration has passed on to the taxpayers of Ohio, principally the future generations."

Coleman added:

"A state as rich as Ohio can pay their obligations as it goes instead of mortgaging their entire future.

"Here is an administration that claims no new taxes, yet they will have enacted a billion dollars of new taxes, and I think that history will prove this administration to be the most extravagent of all."

Red Party Chief Is Re-Elected As Czech President

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The National Assembly today re-elected Communist party chief Antonin Novotony president of Czechoslovakia.

Some Western observers in Vienna interpreted the re-election of Novotny as a show of independence from Moscow because it did not follow the current Soviet pattern of separating the top party and government posts.

Novotny, 60, has held both top offices in Czechoslovakia since he was elected president in 1957. He was nominated for a five-year term by the party's Central Committee and the Communist- dominated National Front.

CTK, the official Czechoslovak news agency, said 294 of the 300 assembly members were present and all voted for Novotny. There was no opposing candidate.

A Communist party member for 43 years, Novitny is one of the few Stalinists still in power. He weathered opposition with the backing of Nikita Khrushchev, who was his close friend.

Jury Weighs 18-Year-Old Murder Case

CELINA, Tenn. (AP) — The jury weighed murder charges based on 18 years of probing by the victim's son against a denial by the defendant as it argued the fate of Grover Jones tooday.

Judge John A. Mitchell ordered the jury to "work on it" all night when the panel returned to the courtroom Wednesday after deliberating an hour and reported it had failed to agree on a verdict in the second-degree murder trial.

"I didn't hit Newt Lee. I never saw that man," said Jones, indicted on evidence gathered after lumberman Welby Lee traveled 100,000 miles in a search for the driver of the car that struck and killed his father Dec. 31, 1944.

Jones, 55, a grocery handyman from Indianapolis, Ind., told of three meetings with the younger Lee.

"I told him I didn't do it. I didn't have a car. In fact we didn't have enough money to buy clothes for the kids to go to school."

Jones said he was not even in Tennessee the day the elder Lee was run down by a car while crossing the road in front of his house.

Isabell Hatcher, 46, a sister of Jones' ex-wife, testified earlier she had heard Jones tell her late mother he "guessed" he hit Newt Lee.

Welby Lee, who vowed the night his father died he would find the killer, sat across the courtroom from Jones. Lee gathered 153 pages of evidence against the handyman after a relentless hunt in which he investigated 18 other men.

Composer Reported Fair After Wounding

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Paul V. Yoder, well-known composer and bandmaster hospitalized with a severe abdominal wound, was reported in fair condition today.

Police said Yoder, 56, had slashed himself with a boning knife Nov. 4. His wife said that recently he had been in bad health and despondent.

Yoder has published more than 1,200 band compositions and has conducted the University of Miami Band in its Orange Bowl performances several times.

JACK WEBB, the one-time "Dragnet" star, is going to produce a TV series for CBS in which Polly Bergen will portray "a female James Bond."

The TV dramas will be based on Patricia McGerr's Selena Mead stories which have appeared in a newspaper Sunday supplement and will come out in book form next month.

The TV version will be a "sophisticated adventure" series, CBS said, with Miss Bergen playing a role which has been described as the "most glamorous secret agent since Mata Hari."

Miss Bergen is a singer-turned actress who has been a panelist on CBS' "To Tell the Truth." She left that series in 1961, however, to move with her agent-husband, Freddie Fields, to Hollywood to devote herself largely to movie roles.

She has appeared in many of them, her latest being "Kisses for My President," a not-too-well-received farce issued this fall in which she plays a woman president of the U. S.

One of Miss Bergen's best-rememberd performances was as the star of "The Helen Morgan Story" on CBS "Playhouse 90" in 1957.

-:-

AN "ENTERTAINMENT documentary" on the Beatles which CBS has scheduled for Friday night as a "special feature" of its "The Entertainers" series had better not be entertaining.

Not consciously, anyway.

One of CBS' competitors, the ABC Network, has put CBS "on notice" that ABC has an agreement with Nems Enterprises, Ltd., agents for the Beatles, under which ABC will telecast a filmed variety show starring the Beatles on Sunday, and that this agreement provides that a certain "documentary special presentation" produced special Maysles Brothers "shall not include any entertainment performances by the Beatles."

It is this one-hour film of the British rock 'n' rollers' tour of the U. S. last winter which CBS has booked for Friday at 8:30.

Also "well publicized" is the fact that NBC has scheduled the first of five Danny Thomas comedy specials for the same night, same hour.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Stop Kidding, Start Slimming

A homemaker, half in fun and all in earnest, gives her weight problem the light touch. She views it this way: Instead of being 60 pounds overweight, she is at least six inches too short!

Ida Jean Kain

"HELP! My scales must be wrong. I couldn't possibly weigh 179 pounds. I'm only 5'1" tall.

"I really eat like a bird. Even my husband and teenage sons say they don't see how I can be fat when I only eat half as much as they do.

"IT COULDN'T be the dip and chip I eat in the afternoon. . . after all, I eat only a small lunch. And yesterday was my sister's birthday party. I had to taste the cake, didn't I? I made it, and had to see if it was good. I drank my coffee black.

"That small dish of ice cream with chocolate sauce I ate last night couldn't have counted much. My husband asked me to make that new recipe for chocolate syrup that a friend gave me.

"I just did the exercises for fat knees. I have fat everywhere. Well, maybe I should count calories. I will be 44 on Sunday. . .I admit to 39.

"I read your column hopefully. . .maybe your encouraging words are finally sinking in. Thanks for listening. May I please write to you again?"

Well, bless your heart. What a joy you must be to live with. Write often!

How about turning that kidding into a slimming game? For the record, keep a diet-diary. Write down what you eat and the calorie score. But to acquire insight, also record your mood —with the light touch. Perhaps your friends are too fattening! Let your delightful sense of humor add zest to this adventure.

If your heart's desire is to be shapely weight, you'll find ways to achieve your goal. Let your first goal be to wear size 18½ short. With a loss of 15 to 20 pounds, you can wear a size smaller.

—:—

SHIFT to a high protein, low carbohydrate diet and you may lose five pounds the very first week and two pounds a week thereafter. Stretch-bends will be wonderfully rewarding. You'll feel and be slimmer in the middle.

Since you love to cook, turn your hand to slimming cookery. You could experiment with herbs. Friends and family trying to detect the source of that subtle flavor won't miss the butter sauce.

For a birthday cake, how about a delicious fruit-flavored strawberry or raspberry angel cake?

Come on. . . you've got such a lot of living to do!

Coleman Rips Rhodes Over Bond Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman has lashed out against a proposal by Gov. James A. Rhodes calling for a new $275 million bond issue.

The governor's proposal was presented to the special session of the legislature Tuesday. The money from the issue would go for capital improvements.

"We've got to stop mortgaging our future," Coleman said Wednesday.

Rhodes and his aides say the issue could be financed without any new taxes, retiring the bonds from revenues within the present tax structure.

But Coleman rejected the "no new taxes" theory saying "if this thing passes this would mean more than a billion dollars in new taxes that this administration has passed on to the taxpayers of Ohio, principally the future generations."

Coleman added:

"A state as rich as Ohio can pay their obligations as it goes instead of mortgaging their entire future.

"Here is an administration that claims no new taxes, yet they will have enacted a billion dollars of new taxes, and I think that history will prove this administration to be the most extravagent of all."

Red Party Chief Is Re-Elected As Czech President

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The National Assembly today re-elected Communist party chief Antonin Novotony president of Czechoslovakia.

Some Western observers in Vienna interpreted the re-election of Novotny as a show of independence from Moscow because it did not follow the current Soviet pattern of separating the top party and government posts.

Novotny, 60, has held both top offices in Czechoslovakia since he was elected president in 1957. He was nominated for a five-year term by the party's Central Committee and the Communist- dominated National Front.

CTK, the official Czechoslovak news agency, said 294 of the 300 assembly members were present and all voted for Novotny. There was no opposing candidate.

A Communist party member for 43 years, Novitny is one of the few Stalinists still in power. He weathered opposition with the backing of Nikita Khrushchev, who was his close friend.

Jury Weighs 18-Year-Old Murder Case

CELINA, Tenn. (AP) — The jury weighed murder charges based on 18 years of probing by the victim's son against a denial by the defendant as it argued the fate of Grover Jones tooday.

Judge John A. Mitchell ordered the jury to "work on it" all night when the panel returned to the courtroom Wednesday after deliberating an hour and reported it had failed to agree on a verdict in the second-degree murder trial.

"I didn't hit Newt Lee. I never saw that man," said Jones, indicted on evidence gathered after lumberman Welby Lee traveled 100,000 miles in a search for the driver of the car that struck and killed his father Dec. 31, 1944.

Jones, 55, a grocery handyman from Indianapolis, Ind., told of three meetings with the younger Lee.

"I told him I didn't do it. I didn't have a car. In fact we didn't have enough money to buy clothes for the kids to go to school."

Jones said he was not even in Tennessee the day the elder Lee was run down by a car while crossing the road in front of his house.

Isabell Hatcher, 46, a sister of Jones' ex-wife, testified earlier she had heard Jones tell her late mother he "guessed" he hit Newt Lee.

Welby Lee, who vowed the night his father died he would find the killer, sat across the courtroom from Jones. Lee gathered 153 pages of evidence against the handyman after a relentless hunt in which he investigated 18 other men.

Composer Reported Fair After Wounding

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Paul V. Yoder, well-known composer and bandmaster hospitalized with a severe abdominal wound, was reported in fair condition today.

Police said Yoder, 56, had slashed himself with a boning knife Nov. 4. His wife said that recently he had been in bad health and despondent.

Yoder has published more than 1,200 band compositions and has conducted the University of Miami Band in its Orange Bowl performances several times.

Mail Drive To Seek $1.5 Million

GOP Turns To Little Man In Bid For Financial Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican treasurer William Middendorf III says the GOP will turn once again to the man who answered the party's call for financial help — the little contributor.

It was, and will be, a measure born of necessity, he said in an interview Wednesday.

"Historically, we've been the party of the rich guy," Middendorf said. "This time he went over to the other side. So we had to go to the broad middle-income field, and we went after it hammer and tong."

Thus, he said, the party will continue a vigorous direct-mail campaign for the $10-a-year sustaining contributions to help meet an estimated $1.5 million budget next year.

As the contributions drive pushed ahead, there were these other Republican developments:

— Republican National Chairman Dean Burch was quoted by the National Broadcasting Co. as saying in a Jamaica interview that he won't be able to continue as chairman if the national committee votes "no confidence" in him at a meeting scheduled for January.

— Sen. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware suggested that Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky would be a good choice for party chairman if Burch is replaced. Morton was chairman from 1959 to 1961.

On the financial front, Middendorf and other GOP officials make no secret of the fact that many traditionally Republican purses snapped shut following the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater for president — although there still were some large contributions.

For a time during the campaign, the financial situation was bleak. But repeated televised appeals for funds resulted in hundreds of thousands of letters bearing contributions in the $1 to $10 range.

GOP officials won't say how much they got, but Middendorf said recently that 1.5 million persons contributed to the Republican campaign compared with 40,000 in 1960.

The net result: a surplus for the Republican National Committee. Middendorf won't say how much, but he scoffs at reports that it tops $1 million.

Crusade To Assure Full Justice

'The Little Guy' Now Has Lobbyist In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little guy who stands in ignorant awe of the massive process of criminal law now has a lobbyist in Washington.

For the present, he is located in a drab, cramped cubicle on the fourth floor of the department whose traditional role has been to prosecute — the Department of Justice.

For the present, the little guy's chief lobbyist — Prof. James Vorenberg — spends two days a week on his Washington job, the rest of his schedule taken up with teaching criminal law at Harvard.

But it's a start. That was what former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had in mind, just before he left office two months ago, when he established an Office of Criminal Justice within the Justice Department.

Kennedy put it succinctly to an assembly of criminal lawyers last Aug. 10 when he announced the innovation. The office, he said, would insure "that the department over which I preside is more than a department of prosecution and is, in fact, the Department of Justice."

The office is still an embryo. Under the direction of Vorenberg, it is still setting down the momentous questions it must ask and answer in its crusade to assure every American his full measure of equal justice under the law.

Was the jury fairly and legally chosen? Was the defendant convicted on Page 1 before he went to trial? Was it right to tap his telephone? Was he held by police too long without a lawyer — and too long before arraignment? Was he properly treated while authorities were determining his mental competency?

Vorenberg and his handful of lawyers, plucked from around the department, know the answers will be a long time in coming. They'll come only after deep research, extensive consultation with federal, state and local officials, and countless conferences such as the one that focused national attention on the problems of bail last spring.

"We're not here to propose a magic formula," the lean, dark-haired, 36-year-old Vorenberg told an interviewer recently. "We're never going to produce the perfect answer. We're not a mediator but a moderator.

"The nature of the problem will determine what the office will do." Vorenberg explained. "If legislation is needed — like the Criminal Justice Act that passed this year—we'll suggest that the attorney general propose it."

Vorenberg pictures his office as a clearing house for new ideas in the field of criminal justice.

Women, Minors In Food Places Due Wage Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William O. Walker, Ohio director of industrial relations, Wednesday approved a five-cent-an-hour increase in the minimum wage for women and minors in the state's food establishments.

About 12,000 of the 100,000 persons affected by the minimum wage make less than the proposed 75 cents an hour mandatory minimum for non-service food workers.

Walker's decision now will set up a public hearing, probably in mid-December and early January effective date for the increase.

Bitter opposition to the increase came from the Ohio AFL - CIO which claims even a $1.25 an hour minimum would be too low.

Walker's action was to approve the recommendation of the state wage board which studied wages of restaurant, hotel, hospital and rest home food handlers for several months.

Also approved by Walker is an increase to 80 cents an hour in the minimum wage for women and minors in non - service, food industry who work less than 30 hours a week.

'Turns You Upside Down,' Rector Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "It's just one of those things that literally turn you upside down," said the Rev. Ernest A. Harding, rector of Christ Church.

For the second time in little more than a year vandals early Wednesday scaled the red-brick fence around the cemetery where Benjamin Franklin and four signers of the Declaration of Independence are buried. They walked among the headstones, brittle with age and with legends worn by the elements, knocking some over and defacing others. Twenty of the markers were damaged or ruined.

In August 1963, vandals got inside the cemetery and damaged or ruined 63 stones. It cost about $2,000 to repair the damage.

Pay Hike For Ohio Judges May Be Less Than Proposed

By WILLIAM VANCE
Brush-Moore Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Newly elected judges banking on pay increases in this special legislative session had better hold off a while before expanding their personal budgets.

There were strong indications today that judges will receive considerably less than was proposed this week in a judicial salary bill.

The indications come from a man who should know — State Tax Commissioner Louis J. Schneider who was elected Nov. 3 to an unexpired two - year term on the Ohio Supreme Court.

Schneider, a close associate of Gov. James A. Rhodes, says simply that "this bill can't pass."

Principal reason, according to Schneider, is that the Governor, while favoring pay raises, doesn't like this bill, which would give Supreme Court and Appeals Court judges salaries exceeding his $25,000 a year.

The bill would grant $10,000 a-year raises to these judges, bringing salaries to $32,000 for the chief justice, $30,000 for Supreme Court judges and $28,000 for Appeals Court Judges.

It also would raise maximum pay for Common Pleas and Probate judges $9,000 to $26,000 a year and would increase the maximum for Municipal Court judges from $15,000 to $24,000.

While the Governor is opposed to the bill, Schneider says he has consented to legislators who want to give it a try. "In effect, he has challenged them to try to round up enough votes to pass it." Schneider said.

Schneider himself agrees that raises are called for but said he feels they are disproportionately high when compared to salaries of certain administrative officials and other elected officials.

He said the government operations committee hearing the bill should take a more realistic view of the situation and quit wasting time on this proposal.

A substitute bill is ready for introduction, he said. It sets the chief justice's salary at $24,000 a year with pay for judges in the other brackets diminishing in steps of $1,000.

He sees fault in that bill, too, because the differential between judgeships would be too small. He said a compromise between the two proposals is needed.

Both the judicial and county pay raise bills are in the hands of a five - member subcommittee which will hold its first session Monday night. Committee members report Gov. Rhodes also opposes any state contribution to salary increases for Common Pleas and Municipal judges and some questioned whether small counties should be told they will have to spend more than $30,000 a year to increase officeholder's salaries.

In the words of one committee member, best advice to county officials and judges now is "don't count your raises before they're hatched."

Pilot Lands Plane With 64, Then Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — A pilot landed a jet at Kennedy International Airport with 64 passengers from England Wednesday night, then collapsed and died in the cockpit.

Kazimierz Fraser, 50, pilot of the British Overseas Airways Corp. Boeing 707, had made a "beautiful landing," said copilot Michael King. King took over the controls while other crewmen vainly administered oxygen to Fraser, who had a heart attack while awaiting taxiing instructions.

Fraser was a member of the Polish army which fled to England when Poland fell during World War II. He became a Royal Air Force fighter pilot.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Injuries suffered in a traffic accident were fatal Wednesday to Miss Opal McGraw, 39, who Woodworth. Miss McGraw, who died in South Side Hospital, was injured late Tuesday night when a car in which she was a passenger crashed into a parked truck on the Poland - North Springfield Road. The driver of the car, William Stitzel, 39, of North Randall, was admitted to the hospital.

Ohio Farm Group Approves Study Of Buying Food Chain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Members of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation have given swift approval to a plan that could put America's farmers in the supermarket business.

They approved Wednesday at the close of their 46th annual convention a study on the proposed purchase of "one or more supermarket chains" to give farmers more "muscle" in the market place.

Federation leaders estimated that about $400 million would be needed for such a purchase. The money would be raised by selling stock to member-farmers in Ohio and other states in the American Farm Bureau Federation, and by selling debenture bonds.

The matter is expected to be taken up next month at the national organization's Philadelphia convention. It was estimated by D. R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the Ohio group, that up to 10 states might be included in the venture.

The proposal was included in the federation's policy committee report which said in part that farmers should be allowed "to attain their rightful role as decision makers in the food distribution system of the future."

Wendell Weller of Urbana, president of the federation, emphasized that the vote was not the final decision but was "simply to give our trustees room to move ahead."

"No deals have been made," Weller told the convention's 254 voting delegates.

The written proposal did not mention a supermarket chain by name but four were mentioned previously as possibilities — Kroger, A & P, Safeway, and American.

A long list of resolutions were adopted before delegates ended their three-day meeting at the Neil House. Among them was a proposal to back reapportionment legislation offering "the greatest protection for rural and agricultural areas."

Mail Drive To Seek $1.5 Million

GOP Turns To Little Man In Bid For Financial Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican treasurer William Middendorf III says the GOP will turn once again to the man who answered the party's call for financial help — the little contributor.

It was, and will be, a measure born of necessity, he said in an interview Wednesday.

"Historically, we've been the party of the rich guy," Middendorf said. "This time he went over to the other side. So we had to go to the broad middle-income field, and we went after it hammer and tong."

Thus, he said, the party will continue a vigorous direct-mail campaign for the $10-a-year sustaining contributions to help meet an estimated $1.5 million budget next year.

As the contributions drive pushed ahead, there were these other Republican developments:

— Republican National Chairman Dean Burch was quoted by the National Broadcasting Co. as saying in a Jamaica interview that he won't be able to continue as chairman if the national committee votes "no confidence" in him at a meeting scheduled for January.

— Sen. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware suggested that Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky would be a good choice for party chairman if Burch is replaced. Morton was chairman from 1959 to 1961.

On the financial front, Middendorf and other GOP officials make no secret of the fact that many traditionally Republican purses snapped shut following the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater for president — although there still were some large contributions.

For a time during the campaign, the financial situation was bleak. But repeated televised appeals for funds resulted in hundreds of thousands of letters bearing contributions in the $1 to $10 range.

GOP officials won't say how much they got, but Middendorf said recently that 1.5 million persons contributed to the Republican campaign compared with 40,000 in 1960.

The net result: a surplus for the Republican National Committee. Middendorf won't say how much, but he scoffs at reports that it tops $1 million.

Pay Hike For Ohio Judges May Be Less Than Proposed

By WILLIAM VANCE
Brush-Moore Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Newly elected judges banking on pay increases in this special legislative session had better hold off a while before expanding their personal budgets.

There were strong indications today that judges will receive considerably less than was proposed this week in a judicial salary bill.

The indications come from a man who should know — State Tax Commissioner Louis J. Schneider who was elected Nov. 3 to an unexpired two - year term on the Ohio Supreme Court.

Schneider, a close associate of Gov. James A. Rhodes, says simply that "this bill can't pass."

Principal reason, according to Schneider, is that the Governor, while favoring pay raises, doesn't like this bill, which would give Supreme Court and Appeals Court judges salaries exceeding his $25,000 a year.

The bill would grant $10,000 a-year raises to these judges, bringing salaries to $32,000 for the chief justice, $30,000 for Supreme Court judges and $28,000 for Appeals Court Judges.

It also would raise maximum pay for Common Pleas and Probate judges $9,000 to $26,000 a year and would increase the maximum for Municipal Court judges from $15,000 to $24,000.

While the Governor is opposed to the bill, Schneider says he has consented to legislators who want to give it a try. "In effect, he has challenged them to try to round up enough votes to pass it." Schneider said.

Schneider himself agrees that raises are called for but said he feels they are disproportionately high when compared to salaries of certain administrative officials and other elected officials.

He said the government operations committee hearing the bill should take a more realistic view of the situation and quit wasting time on this proposal.

A substitute bill is ready for introduction, he said. It sets the chief justice's salary at $24,000 a year with pay for judges in the other brackets diminishing in steps of $1,000.

He sees fault in that bill, too, because the differential between judgeships would be too small. He said a compromise between the two proposals is needed.

Both the judicial and county pay raise bills are in the hands of a five - member subcommittee which will hold its first session Monday night. Committee members report Gov. Rhodes also opposes any state contribution to salary increases for Common Pleas and Municipal judges and some questioned whether small counties should be told they will have to spend more than $30,000 a year to increase officeholder's salaries.

In the words of one committee member, best advice to county officials and judges now is "don't count your raises before they're hatched."

Mt. Nebo Grange Receives Report

LISBON — Kenneth Bell of Midway Grange reported on the Ohio Grange sessions at the meeting of the Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday night in the Grange Hall with Carl Bailey, master, presiding. Seventeen attended.

A communication from Columbiana County Grange Youths, advised that adults may attend the dinner meeting Monday at 7 p. m. at Mt. Nebo hall.

A donation of $7 to the Christian Rural Overseas Program was authorized.

Mrs. Violet Harrold gave four readings, "American Heritage," "Let There be Peace," "Thanksgiving" and "Our Flag."

Lunch included a birthday cake for Mrs. Guy Frantz, Ceres, baked by Mrs. Robert Rockwell. The next meeting will be Dec. 9 at 8 p. m.

Pilot Lands Plane With 64, Then Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — A pilot landed a jet at Kennedy International Airport with 64 passengers from England Wednesday night, then collapsed and died in the cockpit.

Kazimierz Fraser, 50, pilot of the British Overseas Airways Corp. Boeing 707, had made a "beautiful landing," said copilot Michael King. King took over the controls while other crewmen vainly administered oxygen to Fraser, who had a heart attack while awaiting taxiing instructions.

Fraser was a member of the Polish army which fled to England when Poland fell during World War II. He became a Royal Air Force fighter pilot.

Crusade To Assure Full Justice

'The Little Guy' Now Has Lobbyist In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little guy who stands in ignorant awe of the massive process of criminal law now has a lobbyist in Washington.

For the present, he is located in a drab, cramped cubicle on the fourth floor of the department whose traditional role has been to prosecute — the Department of Justice.

For the present, the little guy's chief lobbyist — Prof. James Vorenberg — spends two days a week on his Washington job, the rest of his schedule taken up with teaching criminal law at Harvard.

But it's a start. That was what former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had in mind, just before he left office two months ago, when he established an Office of Criminal Justice within the Justice Department.

Kennedy put it succinctly to an assembly of criminal lawyers last Aug. 10 when he announced the innovation. The office, he said, would insure "that the department over which I preside is more than a department of prosecution and is, in fact, the Department of Justice."

The office is still an embryo. Under the direction of Vorenberg, it is still setting down the momentous questions it must ask and answer in its crusade to assure every American his full measure of equal justice under the law.

Was the jury fairly and legally chosen? Was the defendant convicted on Page 1 before he went to trial? Was it right to tap his telephone? Was he held by police too long without a lawyer — and too long before arraignment? Was he properly treated while authorities were determining his mental competency?

Vorenberg and his handful of lawyers, plucked from around the department, know the answers will be a long time in coming. They'll come only after deep research, extensive consultation with federal, state and local officials, and countless conferences such as the one that focused national attention on the problems of bail last spring.

"We're not here to propose a magic formula," the lean, dark-haired, 36-year-old Vorenberg told an interviewer recently. "We're never going to produce the perfect answer. We're not a mediator but a moderator.

"The nature of the problem will determine what the office will do," Vorenberg explained. "If legislation is needed — like the Criminal Justice Act that passed this year—we'll suggest that the attorney general propose it."

Vorenberg pictures his office as a clearing house for new ideas in the field of criminal justice.

Women, Minors In Food Places Due Wage Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William O. Walker, Ohio director of industrial relations, Wednesday approved a five-cent-an-hour increase in the minimum wage for women and minors in the state's food establishments.

About 12,000 of the 100,000 persons affected by the minimum wage make less than the proposed 75 cents an hour mandatory minimum for non-service food workers.

Walker's decision now will set up a public hearing, probably in mid-December and early January effective date for the increase.

Bitter opposition to the increase came from the Ohio AFL - CIO which claims even a $1.25 an hour minimum would be too low.

Walker's action was to approve the recommendation of the state wage board which studied wages of restaurant, hotel, hospital and rest home food handlers for several months.

Also approved by Walker is an increase to 80 cents an hour in the minimum wage for women and minors in non - service, food industry who work less than 30 hours a week.

'Turns You Upside Down,' Rector Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "It's just one of those things that literally turn you upside down," said the Rev. Ernest A. Harding, rector of Christ Church.

For the second time in little more than a year vandals early Wednesday scaled the red-brick fence around the cemetery where Benjamin Franklin and four signers of the Declaration of Independence are buried. They walked among the headstones, brittle with age and with legends worn by the elements, knocking some over and defacing others. Twenty of the markers were damaged or ruined.

In August 1963, vandals got inside the cemetery and damaged or ruined 63 stones. It cost about $2,000 to repair the damage.

Aviators' 4-5 Record Shouldn't Fool Potters In Finale

Don't let a 4-5 record fool you especially when it is held by a Mel Knowlton coached Alliance team which invades Patterson Field Friday night.

There is probably more to that record then meets the eye when you consider the Aviators, who aren't "flying" so high this season, have played some of the best in the state.

Win or lose Friday at East Liverpool, Alliance will conclude its worst season in 11 years. You have to go back to 1953 to find the last losing campaign for the Aviators.

Two of the five defeats suffered by Alliance were to the No. 1 and 2 teams in the state. The Aviators fell to Massillon, 26-8 and lost to No. 2 teams Canton McKinley by almost the same margin, 28-6. In the McKinley game, observers claimed Alliance outplayed the Canton eleven in the second half.

The Aviators lost in the last minute to Akron St. Vincent 21-20 last week while other defeats were to Struthers, 6-0 and Warren, 18-14.

In the loss to Struthers, Alliance played without the services of their two regular halfbacks.

Alliance shows victories over Akron Central, 38-8, Cleveland Glenville, 42-0, Cuyahoga Falls, 18-13 and Barberton, 14-8. The Barberton victory came after the death of the Magics' quarterback, who was rated as one of the better signal callers in the state.

Coach Bob McNea, who has had his worries over the numerous injuries to the Potters, calls Alliance "the most respected team on our schedule."

"Alliance looks like the same team as last year, they're quick and show some good passing."

Alliance might have shown a better record if its No. 1 quarterback Bruce Robb, senior co-captain of the team, hadn't been injured in the Massillon battle, fourth game of the season.

Robb, who was considered a good passer was forced out of bounds with only 17 seconds remaining in the game and received a knee injury. Robb underwent surgery and was lost for the remainder of the season.

Knowlton has replaced Robb with junior quarterback Chuck Codrea who has had his off and on nights.

The Aviators have four real threats in the backfield with good speed led by senior Gary Rasile, a 190-pound halfback, considered the best all-around back.

Rasile is the bread and butter man of the Aviators getting that necessary yardage when needed.

Mike Beall, a 170-pound senior and honor student, and the other co-captain of the Aviators leads a quick offensive line. Beall is considered the top all-around linemen for the visitors.

Tim Admonius, 190-pound will team with Beall at the other tackle while Tom Hahlen 170-pound senior and Denny Candusso, 165-pound senior, will get the nod at the guard spots.

Eugene Jenkins, 160-pound junior and Tom Offenbecher, 150-pound senior will go to the end posts.

Anchoring down the center of the Alliance line will be big Art Allen, a 265-pound senior, who is rated a topflight linebacker and moves well for his size.

In the East Liverpool camp, McNea reported that tackle Len Walker won't play in the Alliance game and Clarence Crable, the hard hitting linebacker and offensive center is doubtful.

Walker joins a long list of injured Potters suffering a knee injury last week at Salem. Crable is hobbled with an ankle injury.

Larry Long, a junior fullback will replace Crable at middle linebacker while Ray Betteridge a senior will fill in at offensive center and defensive tackle.

John Stephens and Chuck Taylor will hold down the tackle spots offensively.

Bucher Will Send Last Lisbon Football Team To Gridiron Friday After 19 Years

The Review Sports

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1964 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 18

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

An era in Lisbon High School football will come to an end Friday night when Coach Edwin (Bud) Bucher sends his last Blue Devil team to the gridiron.

It was 19 years and 175 games ago that Bucher first stood on the sidelines at Lisbon, and in that time his record will stand up against about any coach who ever pulled on a pair of football shoes.

Going into his final game, Bucher's record is a glittering 122 victories, 52 defeats and five ties. And a good share of those losses had to come this season, in his final year at the county seat.

THE 1964 campaign hasn't been too good to the veteran Lisbon coach, with his team showing only one victory in nine games. Lisbon will meet a strong United team in its final game Friday.

This season was the only losing year in Bucher's time and he can look back on three undefeated teams and four squads which brought home the Tri-County championship.

As the dean of Columbiana County coaches, Bud will go down as the winningest mentor the county has ever known. As Bucher puts it, "There are not many of us old guys around any more."

Bud is 51, and he is not calling it quits for good from the coaching ranks. He probably would be satisfied being a member of a college coaching staff somewhere.

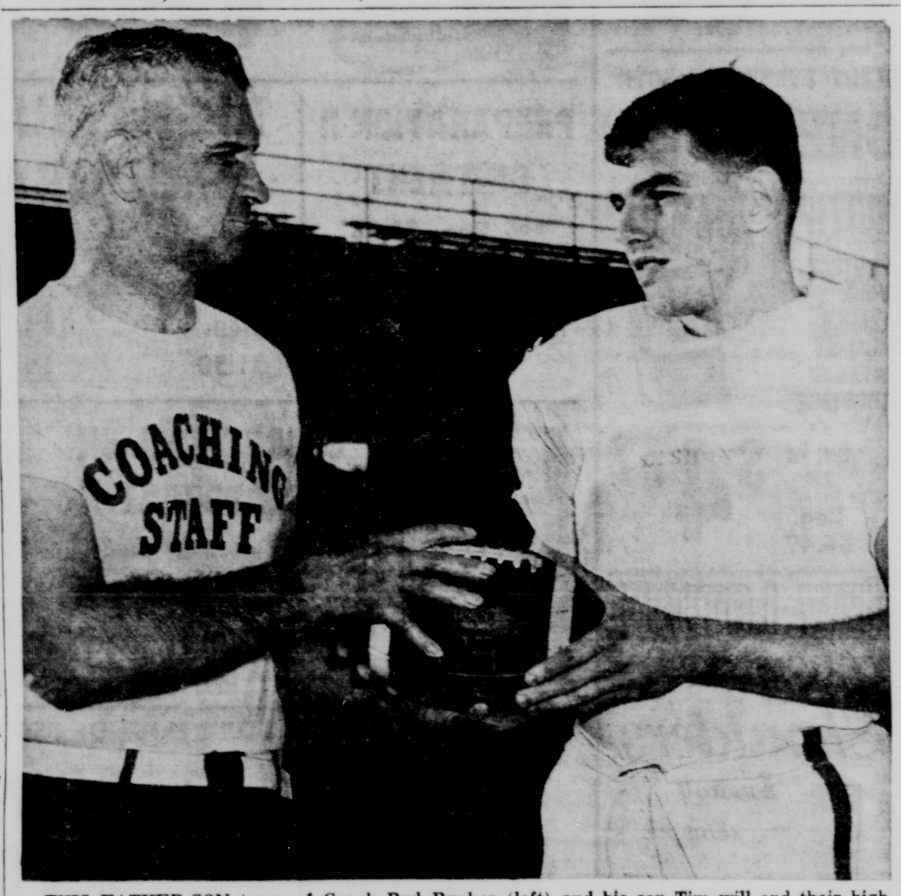
—:—

THE LISBON Board of Education approved his resignation as football coach Tuesday night, effective following Friday night's game.

Bud plans to continue teaching, but said it "doesn't mean I will stay in Lisbon."

When the 1964 football season rolled around, Bucher was not in the best physical condition.

Almost a year ago to the day, Nov. 15, the Lisbon coach was seriously injured in an automobile accident on Route 164 outside of Lisbon in which a fellow teacher, riding in the same car with Bucher, was killed. The group was returning from a teachers' meeting in East Liverpool.



THIS FATHER-SON team of Coach Bud Bucher (left) and his son Tim will end their high school football season together Friday night when Lisbon meets nUited. Bucher resigned as head coach at Lisbon after serving 19 years, the longest of any active coach in the district. His son is the star quarterback of the Blue Devil team.

BUD SPENT the next 71 days in a Youngstown Hospital, and his recovery was slow. He was ready to resign as head grid coach before the season started, but his wife urged him to remain another season.

There is a father-son situation at Lisbon, with Bud finishing his coaching career at Lisbon High the very same time his son, Tim, the star quarterback of the team, closes his high school playing days. Tim is in his third year as a regular.

Tim would like to continue playing football at some small college and if his father has anything to say about the school the choice will be Mt. Union.

That's where the elder Bucher played his college football. He was an outstanding back for three years at Mt. Union.

—:—

FOLLOWING graduation from Mount, he turned his attentions from football to baseball and played one year of professional ball after he was signed by the Boston Red Sox organization.

He played at Logan, W.Va., then a Class D club in the Mountain State League in 1937.

After a fling at baseball, it was back to football and Bud returned to his home town of Minerva, where he served five years as an assistant on the gridiron and two seasons as head basketball coach.

—:—

BUCHER found himself back at Mt. Union in 1942 as an assistant football coach, but World War II came along and he served three years in the Navy, playing football for the Sampson (N. Y.) base team.

His long tenure at Lisbon began in 1946 following the war. It didn't take his coaching technique long to click, because he turned out an undefeated team in 1947.

Asked if he can recall a game that stands out over all the other 175 contests, he was quick to mention the 1947 game with Salem.

—:—

"ONE DOES stand out, the 7-0 victory over Salem in the mud was the greatest game in my career here," he said.

"I think Salem was either sixth or seventh in the state that year and we were both undefeated going into our final game."

While he pointed to that particular game, Bucher also called the teams of 1947, '50, '53, '54 and '63 as his best.

In his time at Lisbon, Bucher has seen at least 35 boys go to college on scholarships.

PICKING out the finest player he ever coached at Lisbon didn't seem too hard a task for Bucher. He pointed to Dean Nicholson, who was an all-state quarterback in 1953. "Dean was an all - around player, he even made some all - state teams as a defensive player."

Bucher currently has former pupils playing college football, including Rick Bowling, captain of the Kent State team; Jim Tanner, who captained Youngstown University last season; Tom Brookes, North Carolina; Steve Frew, Muskingum; Jeff Henry and Dick Rose, Mt. Union, and Larry McPherson, Clemson.

BUCHER continued to turn out winning football teams after 1956, but a decline in grid material could be noticed as the county school district added new schools, with Beaver Local and United affecting Lisbon's enrollment. Only last year Bucher turned out a team which won nine and only lost one.

"Our enrollment has dropped almost 150 students over the last six or seven years and now we rank as one of the smallest schools in the Tri - County League. The other schools we play have grown so much."

Bud figured he had opposed at least 45 other coaches during his reign at Lisbon. We are sure they won't forget the fine teams he put on the field.

Cancer Claims Hutchinson, Former Manager At Cincy

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Fred Hutchinson, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds whose baseball career was ended abruptly by chest cancer, died early today in a hospital.

The 45-year-old Hutchinson, showing some improvement, was allowed to go to his home on nearby Anna Maria Island last Saturday. But his condition deteriorated rapidly and he was returned to the hospital in an ambulance Tuesday.

With his health failing fast, he had stepped down Oct. 19 as manager of the Reds. The job went to Dick Sisler, who became acting manager when Hutchinson went on sick leave Aug. 13.

Hutchinson, baseball's Manager of the Year in 1957 for his second-place finish with the St. Louis Cardinals and again in 1961 for a pennant winner at Cincinnati, felt the first pain of his illness last Christmas.

CLEVELAND (AP) — All members of the coaching staff have been rehired by the Cleveland Indians for next season, but one of them will not be with the parent club.

In announcing rehiring of the coaches Wednesday, Gabe Paul, Indians' president and general manager, said Elmer Valo will be manager of the Tribe's Dubuque, Iowa, team in the Class A Midwest League. He was Indians' first base coach for the past two seasons.

George Strickland, who became acting manager last season after Birdie Tebbetts suffered a heart attack during training at Tucson, Ariz., will be returning for his third season. He is a former Indian infielder.

Early Wynn, pitching coach and former Tribe hurler, and Solly Hemus will be back for their second season.

Stanton Will Complete Grid Schedule Friday

The Stanton Local football squad has not completed its 1964 schedule as announced in Wednesday's Review. Stanton added a game to its schedule and will play at Smithfield Friday night. A victory in this game would put the Red Raiders in first place among district teams if East Liverpool should lose to Alliance. Stanton enters its final game with a 6-2 record.

Gun Bow Trails By 4½

Kelso Wins International Classic With Record Time

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Kelso, king of the hill for an unprecedented four years, refuses to come down.

His ground seemed shaky in Wednesday's $150,000 Washington, D.C., International horse race.

The old boy sent his would-be successor, Gun Bow, whose rider weakly cried foul, reeling by 4½ lengths. Six foreign invaders were lost in the shuffle in the battle for the pinnacle.

Kelso's 7-year-old legs traveled the fastest time ever on an American track for 1½ miles, 2:23 4-5.

The glorious triumph after three previous seconds in the same race gave pause to his owner and trainer who had been thinking of issuing an abdication decree in behalf of Kelso.

Mrs. Richard C. duPont, the owner, between crying and joy said, "I can't say anything definite about whether he'll run again."

"It shook up everything," said trainer Carl Hanford. "He's in such wonderful condition, it would be a shame to stop him now."

There is no reason to rush Kelso into retirement as long as he shows the life he did in the International. As a gelding, he has no future of producing children and racing for money is his last claim to fame.

He already has picked up $1,893,362, more than any racing thoroughbred in history. He is the first to be voted best U. S. horse more than once with a fifth in the offing.

The 13th International was a two-horse Yankee race from the start and the closest at the finish was — 13½ lengths behind Kelso — was Russia's Anilin.

Dragging in behind were Ireland's Biscayne, France's Belle Sicambre, Venezuela's Primordial, Italy's Veronese and Japan's Ryu Forel.

Acclamation of Kelso by the crowd of 37,800 was delayed for 20 minutes while the stewards considered a foul filed by Walter Blum, jockey on Gun Bow. The stewards didn't see it.

Blum admitted that Kelso didn't make physical contact with Gun Bow as the two squared away three-sixteenths of a mile from the finish.

"But I felt that he was intimidating me and made me change my course," said Blum. "If there was any possibility of a reversal of the decision, I owed it to the owners and the racing public to have the stewards look at the film."

Kelso's 7-year-old legs traveled the fastest time ever on an American track for 1½ miles, 2:23 4-5.

The glorious triumph after three previous seconds in the same race gave pause to his owner and trainer who had been thinking of issuing an abdication decree in behalf of Kelso.

Mrs. Richard C. duPont, the owner, between crying and joy said, "I can't say anything definite about whether he'll run again."

"It shook up everything," said trainer Carl Hanford. "He's in such wonderful condition, it would be a shame to stop him now."

There is no reason to rush Kelso into retirement as long as he shows the life he did in the International. As a gelding, he has no future of producing children and racing for money is his last claim to fame.

He already has picked up $1,893,362, more than any racing thoroughbred in history. He is the first to be voted best U. S. horse more than once with a fifth in the offing.

The 13th International was a two-horse Yankee race from the start and the closest at the finish was — 13½ lengths behind Kelso — was Russia's Anilin.

Dragging in behind were Ireland's Biscayne, France's Belle Sicambre, Venezuela's Primordial, Italy's Veronese and Japan's Ryu Forel.

Acclamation of Kelso by the crowd of 37,800 was delayed for 20 minutes while the stewards considered a foul filed by Walter Blum, jockey on Gun Bow. The stewards didn't see it.

Blum admitted that Kelso didn't make physical contact with Gun Bow as the two squared away three-sixteenths of a mile from the finish.

"But I felt that he was intimidating me and made me change my course," said Blum. "If there was any possibility of a reversal of the decision, I owed it to the owners and the racing public to have the stewards look at the film."

Who's To Stop Celtics After 11 Straight?

By The Associated Press

Red Auerbach's approach to his Boston Celtics and the Celtics' approach to the National Basketball Association can be summed up in a word — totalitarian.

"I'm a dictator," Coach Auerbach has told his players. "It's up to you to keep me happy."

The Celtics, presumably, are keeping Red happy. They have played 11 games thus far this season and have won them all, including a 110-84 romp over San Francisco Wednesday night. They are four short of the NBA's record getaway of 15 straight victories set by the old Washington Capitols in 1948.

In Wednesday night's other games, Hal Greer and Chet Walker led a late Philadelphia breakthrough that carried the 76ers past Baltimore 123-114 while Cincinnati's Wayne Embry capped his 13-point closing burst with a basket in the last half-minute that sank St. Louis 118-116.

Minnesota Eleven Again Leads In NAIA

Hiram Coach To Speak At Beaver Local Fete

Bob Dove, former standout at Notre Dame and now a successful coach at Hiram College, will be guest speaker when the football teams of Beaver Local High School and Beaver Public School are honored.

The banquet beginning at 6:30 will be held in the high school sponsored by the Boosters Club.

The affair is open to the public but tickets must be secured in advance by calling the high school, a Booster Club member or Mrs. Ruth Green, chairman, at 385-5365.

The annual awards also will be made by head coach Ed Stevens.

Clay Laughs At Writers Who Pick Liston To Win

BOSTON (AP) — Champion Cassius Clay is laughing at the boxing writers and other so-called experts who have installed challenger Sonny Liston as the favorite for their heavyweight championship bout next Monday.

"A thousand newsmen picked Liston before the last fight," he jeered, "but what happened?"

He noted Liston has been installed the favorite again and asked:

"Don't they ever learn?"

Clay, who prefers the name Muhammad Ali, insisted Wednesday he will have the last laugh.

"Liston's a slow, old man," Clay said. "I can cut him easy. I'll slice his face up."

Clay was honored for the laughs he has given others. The Harvard Lampoon, a student publication devoted to satire, honored him as Athlete of the Year for having brought humor back to the gloomy boxing picture.

The Lampoon is best known for its annual awards to Hollywood stars for Worst Performance By A Male Actor, etc.

Clay showed no sign of humor while going four rounds with his favorite sparmate, Cody Jones.

Liston boxed five rounds Wednesday, giving him a total of 148 since he started training for the attempt to recover the crown he lost in Miami.

Liston wouldn't talk to the writers after his workout. A camp spokesman said the challenger is getting tighter each day and had a hassle with trainer Willie Reddish Tuesday.

Hutchinson

Before becoming a manager, Hutchinson was a successful pitcher in the minors and with the Detroit Tigers. His major league record of 99 wins, 71 losses, might have been better had he not missed four seasons, 1942 through 1945, in military service.

As a manager, Hutchinson was sometimes rough and tough, sometimes cool and patient.

When his temper flared, he took it out on the furniture in his clubhouse office, not the players.

After losing a game he believed he should have won, he would often stride into his office, slam the door and start throwing the furniture around. Sometimes, windows were broken.

When the storm broke, he would shower, shave, dress and step out, calm and smiling.

Later, he would get together with offending players, one at a time, for a private discussion of their faults. Because he never exposed one to public embarrassment, all his players liked him.

Hutchinson, a native of Seattle, won 25 games for Seattle of the Pacific Coast League in his first year as a pitcher and was named Minor League Player of the Year by The Sporting News.

His best pitching years at Detroit were 1949, when he was 15-7, and 1950, when he was 17-8.

On July 2, 1952, he replaced Red Rolfe as manager of the Tigers. In the next two years, his teams finished sixth and fifth and it was back to the minors in 1955 as manager of Seattle.

Seattle won the pennant that year and from 1956 into the 1958 season he managed the Cardinals. They finished fourth in 1956 and second in 1957. Once again, he went back to Seattle in 1959, but he moved to the Reds on July 9.

A sixth-place finish in 1960 was followed by a pennant in 1961, although the Reds lost to the New York Yankees in a five-game World Series.

Jimmy Brown Named NFL's Back Of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Old dependable Jimmy Brown came through with another of his patented 100-plus yard games for the Cleveland Browns last Sunday and joined the club as this week's Associated Press Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Brown rambled 121 yards on 18 carries and scored once in the Browns' 34-24 victory over the stubborn Washington Redskins. Jim's touchdown was the 101st of his brilliant career.

Down through the years, Brown has amassed 100 or more yards rushing in a record total of 48 different games. Brown had four big days this season, gaining 188, 149, 104 and then 121 yards.

It is largely through Brown's efforts that Cleveland holds a two-game edge in the NFL's Eastern Conference with only five games to play. Jim leads all the rushers as usual with 934 yards for the season on 179 carries, a lead of 208 yards on runner-up Jim Taylor of Green Bay.

Taylor also had himself an outstanding day Sunday with his third 100-plus effort of the season as he gained 145 yards on 19 carries against the tough Detroit Lions' defense in a 30-7 Packer victory.

Baltimore's amazing rookie fullback, Tony Lorick, ripped off 126 yards in 14 tries in the Colts' 40-24 romp over the defending champion Chicago Bears.

Fran Tarkenton of Minnesota hit with three scoring passes while completing 17 of 25 for 234 yards in the Vikings 24-7 ramble over the San Francisco 49ers.

Pass Catcher Only 2 Short Of New Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Chances are that Howard Twilley's sore ankle won't stop the Tulsa pass catcher from setting an all-time collegiate receiving record this weekend.

Twilley, favorite target of Jerry Rhome, the Hurricanes' sensational passer, is two receptions short of the season record of 70 set last year by Larry Elkins of Baylor. The junior end, injured last week in Tulsa's 19-7 victory over Memphis State, may not be in the starting lineup Saturday against North Texas State but he figures to see action.

Twilley, the national leader in receptions (68), yardage (836) and touchdown passes (9), according to latest NCAA major college statistics, also is bidding to become the first end ever to capture the season scoring title. The point leader a week ago, he now trails Brian Piccolo of Wake Forest by two points, 77-75.

Cross Country Is Set For Saturday

CHICAGO (AP) — With Emporia State of Kansas not entered, the championship will be up for grabs Saturday in the NCAA college division cross country run.

The meet has drawn a record entry list of 266 harriers from 44 colleges and will be held for the seventh straight year with Wheaton as host on the four-mile Cloverleaf course at the Chicago Country club.

Central State of Ohio heads the scramble for the team crown with stern threats from Northeast Missouri, South Dakota State and Slippery Rock.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NUMBER 26, 1964

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING PERMISSION TO USE THE STREETS OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL FOR THE PURPOSE OF TRANSMISSION OF TELEVISION AND RADIO SIGNALS AND TO CHARGE FOR CONNECTION THERETO.

WHEREAS, Rego Industries Inc. of the City of Hoboken, State of New Jersey, desires to conduct the business of a Community Antenna Television System including, if this is found expedient by it, all types of services usually furnished or which can be furnished by such a system, in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, through the media of transmission through cables and/or wires commonly called a Master antenna Cable System or otherwise, and,

WHEREAS, said contemplated cable system would to a large extent be attached to poles, and its cables or wires, and other appurtenances would cross over and under the streets, sidewalks, public land and highways in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio,

NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

SECTION 1. There is hereby granted to the said Rego Industries, Inc., and its successors and assigns, hereinafter called the Company, the right and privilege from the effective date of this ordinance, to construct, maintain and operate in the present and future streets, alleys and public places of the City of East Liverpool, poles, lines, cables, necessary wiring and other apparatus for the purpose of receiving, amplifying and distributing television and radio signals to said City and the inhabitants thereof.

SECTION 2. That poles shall be so erected as not to interfere with the traffic over the streets and alleys, and the location of all poles or other obstructions shall be fixed with the prior written approval and under the supervision of the Director of Public Service - Safety as to such location giving consideration to the reasonable operation of the same; providing further that such location shall not be vested interest, and the same shall be removed by Company whenever the same restrict or obstruct the operation or location or any further operation of said streets and alleys and public places.

SECTION 3. That permission is hereby granted the said Company and his assigns to attach or otherwise affix cables or wires to the pole facilities of any public utility company even though the same may cross over the streets, sidewalks, public lands, highways of the City of East Liverpool provided the said Company or assigns secures the permission and consent of said aforementioned public utility companies concerned to affix the said cables and/or wires or other apparatus to their pole facilities.

SECTION 4. That all streets and sidewalks disturbed or damaged in the construction or maintenance of said cable lines and other appurtenances shall be promptly repaired by the grantee at its expense and to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Service - Safety of the said City.

SECTION 5. That the Company shall be subject to all ordinances now in force or that may be hereafter enacted relative to the use of the streets and alleys of the City of East Liverpool.

SECTION 6. That the Company shall hold the City of East Liverpool harmless from all claims for damages arising out of the construction, maintenance or operation of said cable lines or other appurtenances, and shall furnish liability insurance for the protection of persons in the amount of $100,000.00 for each person and $300,000.00 for each accident, and shall deposit and keep on file at all times in the office of the Director of Public Service - Safety a certificate of insurance which shall be non-cancellable except on thirty (30) days notice by said insurance company to said City.

SECTION 7. That construction of said system shall begin within 15 months from the effective date of this ordinance, and basic service shall be rendered to the citizens within an additional 9 months. Service to all parts of said City are contemplated herein and shall be furnished by the Company within a reasonable time after 24 months from the effective date hereunder, unless Council grants additional time or excuses service to particular areas. Council will be the sole judge as to what constitutes "reasonable time".

SECTION 8. Said Company may charge subscribing citizens for said service a maximum of $5.50 per month, subject to a discount of 10 per cent if paid by the 10th of the month in the month service is rendered to a citizen. Said maximum charge shall not be changed during the five years following the first month service is rendered by the company hereunder. Said maximum charge may be raised thereafter but only with Council's permission.

SECTION 9. This ordinance shall extend for a period of 15 years from the effective date hereof and shall continue thereafter for such periods of time as Council shall then ordain.

SECTION 10. The Company may charge each subscriber an installation charge of $9.90 when installation is made.

SECTION 11. The Company shall pay the cost of publication of this ordinance.

Passed this 5th day of October, 1964.

2 IN MEMORIAM

CHARLES REEDER. In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away 7 years ago, Nov. 10th: The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave, Where sleeps our husband and father. We loved but could not save. We often sit and think of you and speak of how you died; To think you could not say goodby before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best; May God grant you eternal rest.

LEGAL NOTICES

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING PERMISSION TO USE THE STREETS OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL FOR THE PURPOSE OF TRANSMISSION OF TELEVISION AND RADIO SIGNALS AND TO CHARGE FOR CONNECTION THERETO.
WHEREAS, Rego Industries Inc. of the City of Hoboken, State of New Jersey, desires to conduct the business of a Community Antenna Television System including, if this is found expedient by it, all types of services usually furnished or which can be furnished by such a system, in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, through the media of transmission through cables and/or wires commonly called a Master antenna Cable System or otherwise, and,
WHEREAS, said contemplated cable system would to a large extent be attached to poles, and its cables or wires, and other appurtenances would cross over and under the streets, sidewalks, public land and highways in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio,
NOW THEREFORE,
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO,
SECTION 1. There is hereby granted to the said Rego Industries, Inc., and its successors and assigns, hereinafter called the Company, the right and privilege from the effective date of this ordinance, to construct, maintain and operate in the present and future streets, alleys and public places of the City of East Liverpool, poles, lines, cables, necessary wiring and other apparatus for the purpose of receiving, amplifying and distributing television and radio signals to said City and the inhabitants thereof.
SECTION 2. That poles shall be so erected as not to interfere with the traffic over the streets and alleys, and the location of all poles or other obstructions shall be fixed with the prior written approval and under the supervision of the Director of Public Service - Safety as to such location giving consideration to the reasonable operation of the same; providing further that such location shall not be vested interest, and the same shall be removed by Company whenever the same restrict or obstruct the operation or location or any further operation of said streets and alleys and public places.
SECTION 3. That permission is hereby granted the said Company and his assigns to attach or otherwise affix cables or wires to the pole facilities of any public utility company even though the same may cross over the streets, sidewalks, public lands, highways of the City of East Liverpool provided the said Company or assigns secures the permission and consent of said aforementioned public utility companies concerned to affix the said cables and/or wires or other apparatus to their pole facilities.
SECTION 4. That all streets and sidewalks disturbed or damaged in the construction or maintenance of said cable lines and other appurtenances shall be promptly repaired by the grantee at its expense and to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Service - Safety of the said City.
SECTION 5. That the Company shall be subject to all ordinances now in force or that may be hereafter enacted relative to the use of the streets and alleys of the City of East Liverpool.
SECTION 6. That the Company shall hold the City of East Liverpool harmless from all claims for damages arising out of the construction, maintenance or operation of said cable lines or other appurtenances, and shall furnish liability insurance for the protection of persons in the amount of $100,000.00 for each person and $300,000.00 for each accident, and shall deposit and keep on file at all times in the office of the Director of Public Service - Safety a certificate of insurance which shall be non-cancellable except on thirty (30) days notice by said insurance company to said City.
SECTION 7. That construction of said system shall begin within 15 months from the effective date of this ordinance, and basic service shall be rendered to the citizens within an additional 9 months. Service to all parts of said City are contemplated herein and shall be furnished by the Company within a reasonable time after 24 months from the effective date hereunder, unless Council grants additional time or excuses service to particular areas. Council will be the sole judge as to what constitutes "reasonable time".
SECTION 8. Said Company may charge subscribing citizens for said service a maximum of $5.50 per month, subject to a discount of 10 per cent if paid by the 10th of the month in the month service is rendered to a citizen. Said maximum charge shall not be changed during the five years following the first month service is rendered by the company hereunder. Said maximum charge may be raised thereafter but only with Council's permission.
SECTION 9. This ordinance shall extend for a period of 15 years from the effective date hereof and shall continue thereafter for such periods of time as Council shall then ordain.
SECTION 10. The Company may charge each subscriber an installation charge of $9.90 when installation is made.
SECTION 11. The Company shall pay the cost of publication of this ordinance.
Passed this 5th day of October, 1964.

2 IN MEMORIAM

CHARLES REEDER. In loving memory of our dear husband and father who passed away 7 years ago, Nov. 10th: The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave, Where sleeps our husband and father We loved but could not save. We often sit and think of you and speak of how you died: To think you could not say goodby before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best; May God grant you eternal rest.

Junior Editors Quiz on TYPEWRITER

QUESTION: Why isn't the typewriter keyboard in alphabetical order?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: A great deal of study, research and experiment went into the development of the first practical typewriter. Among other things, the strength and quickness of the average person's fingers were studied. It was found that certain fingers were fitted to take a heavier load of activity than others. At the same time, certain letters are used more often than others. From about 1868 to 1873 Carlos S. Glidden, Samuel W. Soule and Christopher L. Sholes worked to perfect the typewriter keyboard. The letters most used were given to the strongest fingers. Check our alphabetical keyboard against the touch system fingers; you will see that such important letters as "r" and "y" have been placed, in the touch system, where the active index fingers can operate them. We still use the system these inventors worked out. However, experiments are being made to design a keyboard allowing the hands to fall in a more natural position (lower left). Notice how conveniently the space bars are located, where the two thumbs would fall naturally on them.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Arch the fingers of one hand and put them down on a table. Pick up one finger at a time and tap down without lifting the others. Notice how strongly you can tap with the first or index finger—better than the others.

★ ★ ★

'Know Your America'

Theme Of Veterans Day Used At BPW Club Event

A Veteran's Day atmosphere highlighted the "Know Your America" program presented by the world affairs committee at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel. About 55 attended.

To emphasize the national theme, red, white and blue maline was draped across the head table decorated with a patriotic floral arrangement. Styrofoam replicas of North and South America accented the international theme. Red, white and blue tapers completed the setting.

Mrs. Hilda Edgar, vice chairman of the committee, read the commentary for songs popular during each of the World Wars. They were played by Mrs. Louise Lawton. Members sang the songs of each era.

Mrs. Edna Jones distributed a crossword puzzle with the blanks to be filled in with members' names and Mrs. Dorothy Crooks won a prize.

Members inducted during the past three years were introduced by Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Dorothy Talbott, Mrs. Evelyn Walker, Miss Hazel McShane and Mrs. Sue Arnold, as the "Know Your BPW Club" part of the program.

In reporting on the status of women under consideration for Ohio, Miss Joan Witt said 32 states already have such commissions. She listed the areas to be covered as adult education and counseling, home and community, women in employment, labor standards, security of basic income, legal rights and equality of women as citizens.

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president, introduced officers of the Nike Club of the high school, Terry Sprague, Cindy Jackson, Carol Dingey and Diane Duffy. Mrs. Mary McCullough, club co-ordinator, spoke on the previous sessions and aims.

Mrs. Helen Moore reported on the recent survey conducted by 17 members assisting the City Planning Commission. She said they interviewed over 700 persons.

Mrs. Mildred Cooper read the minutes. Miss Helen Bibbee, acting treasurer, read the financial report and said the group was asked to give a contribution to the National Congress to be held next July at Washington. The club complied.

In giving the membership report, Mrs. Eva Mills said forms will be distributed at the next session for submitting prospective members' names. She conducted a contest to see who could name every one present and Miss Roberta Pennybaker won the prize for naming all.

Plans were made to establish a ways and means committee with Mrs. Moore designated as chairman. A rummage sale will be held in the near future.

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, inter - club relations chairman and co-ordinator of districts, reported on visitations to Steubenville, Canton, Cleveland, Akron, Wilmington, Defiance, Zanesville, Fairborn, Coshocton and Lafayette.

In the absence of Mrs. May Hartt, chairman, Mrs. McCullough gave the report of the Child Health Clinic, advising the annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 13 at the Elks Club ballroom. She asked members of the group and the Nike Club to assist with the preparation on Dec. 11.

The president closed the session with an article on "Use Your Potential."

Patriotic literature was placed at each table setting. Favors were rain bonnets and bottles of lotion.

The Executive Board, with Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, chairman, will have charge of the Christmas party Dec. 9. A gift exchange will be held.

Elkton PTA Hears 3 From School Board

The Elkton Parent - Teacher Association met at the school Monday night and Roy Cashdollar, executive head of the Beaver Local School District, and three members of the Board of Education answered questions about the recent cutbacks in operation.

Mrs. Charles Dickey and Mrs. John Woodburn reported on plans for the Dental Clinic with a date to be set.

The ways and means chairman, William Rudibaugh, said homemade candy will be sold before the holidays and a penny supper will be held next spring.

The third and fourth grades tied for the attendance banner.

Refreshments were served 30 by the third grade mothers.

Highlandtown Corps Will Purchase Boots

The Highlandtown Women's Corps Tuesday night voted to purchase some boots for the volunteer fire department.

A bake sale will be held Nov. 21 at Curry's Service Station.

A special meeting was set for Nov. 24 at the fire hall to fill food baskets for needy families.

Mrs. Jean Francis, vice president, conducted business in the absence of Mrs. Janet Taggart, president.

Nine attended, including Mrs. Marty Baker, a guest. Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Goldie Curry served lunch. The next meeting will be Dec. 8.
